PACKERS WIN CLOSE GAME FROM CARDS 7 TO 6

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(CHICAGO) - An underdog started to growl at the Green Bay Packers at the White Sox field here Sunday. The "dog" was the rejuvenated Chicago Cardinal eleven. It started in the final period and soon its growl turned into a bark and the bark into a bite that sank deep in the bodies of the Packers. However, the Packers managed to shake off the vicious canine in time to squeeze over a 7 to 6 victory, but they learned what it was to play a team that puts up a whirlwind finish. The first three quarters of the game was all in favor of the Green Bay squad, although it failed to show the power and drive displayed in other games this year. The final period was a different story, however, and the Cardinals came to life with a bang, throwing passes, smashing through the Packer line on triple pass plays and in general making life miserable for Bay players and their fans. The combination of Ernie Nevers, Cobb Rooney and Kassel were the principal offenders to the Packer peace of mind in that frenzied final period. They figured prominently in almost every play that kept the Packers continually on the defense in their own territory. Then late in the period came a long pass with Nevers on the throwing side and Kassel receiving that brought the Cardinals a touchdown. Kassel caught the ball on the ten-yard line and easily eluded Blood and Kotal to run over the line. The marker brought the Cardinal score to within one point of the Packer total which was earned in the second period. Eight thousand fans held their breaths as Nevers dropped back to try for the extra point that would mean a tie or a defeat. The kick was rushed as Packer linemen charged in like demons and the ball went wide of the posts.

PLAY LACKS SNAP

It is hard to figure just what was wrong with the Bays in the final period. They stopped Nevers and his mates effectively in the early stages of the game but seemed to be "bushed" when the Cardinals began to show their fangs. The forward pass defense got tangled up in its anxiety to stop the Cardinal march, and the linemen were often pulled out of position and plays that were smeared for losses early in the game worked like charms to gain yardage. Although the Bays outplayed the Cardinals in the early periods, their plays lacked the snap and fire that has characterized efforts in other triumphs. They had the ball in Cardinal territory continually the first three periods, but invariably something went wrong and no score was recorded. Early in the game, the Packers got the advantage by an exchange of punts and a pass, Lewellen to Lavvie Dilweg, brought the ball to the four-yard line. Lavvie made a great catch of the ball and then reversed his field to dodge two Cardinal players and carry the ball about 30 yards before he was stopped. Bo Molenda carried the oval to the one yard marker and Lewellen tried a smash over the right tackle. He made the goal, but was tackled high and hard and fumbled, Nevers recovering on his own one-foot line. Nevers punted out of danger and the first Packer threat was stopped. After that there were a number of other openings for the Bays but only on one occasion did they take advantage of a scoring chance.

EDDIE MAKES OPENING

It was Eddie Kotal who made the opening that the Bays took advantage of to score. The Packers had the ball on the 18 yard line after Hubbard recovered a Cardinal fumble but lost the oval on downs. Nevers again punted out and Lew likewise kicked, the ball going over the goal line. The Cardinals took the ball on their own 20 yard line and on the first play tried a pass to Cobb Rooney. The ball hit Rooney's chest and then landed in the arms of Eddie Kotal, who ran it back to the 19 yard line before he was stopped. Eddie picked up three yards through a hole at guard and Bo added four more yards through center. Lew then dropped back to the 20 yard line in punt formation, but instead of kicking, went around right end behind excellent blocking, changed his pace, shifted to the left and dove over the goal line as two Cardinal men tried to tackle him. The ever-reliable toe of Red Dunn sent the ball squarely between the uprights for the extra point that was to mean victory for Green Bay. After that there was some good football and some bad, with neither side getting beyond the 10 yard line until the fourth quarter when the Cardinals did their damage.

KOTAL GETS PASS

The Packers got down beyond the Cardinal 20 yard line on two other occasions later in the game but nothing came of their efforts. In the third period, a pass, Dunn to Eddie Kotal brought the ball to the Cardinal 15 yard line. Three plays gained a few yards and Bo Molenda dropped back to try a placekick. The ball was blocked and recovered by Dowling who started galloping madly down the field with the oval tucked under his arm. Lavvie Dilweg managed to catch Darling and tackle him in midfield, to prevent the Cardinal end from continuing on his way to a touchdown. John Blood broke through the Cardinal line for two fine gains at the start of the fourth period, going 14 yards on his first try and 17 on the second to carry the ball to the Cardinal 27 yard line. Two plays netted the Packers five yards but two passes were incomplete and the Cardinals took the ball on downs on their own 22 yard line. It was from this point that the Cardinals started the "Big Parade". Nevers and Rooney alternated in carrying the ball for two successive first downs and then a punt sent the oval to the Packer 29 yard line. Lew got off his only bad kick of the season when he punted out and the Cardinals took the ball in midfield and resumed the march that was to end in a touchdown, as was related previously in this narrative. For those who care for statistics, it might be interesting to know that the Cardinals made 11 first downs to 7 for the Packers. The Cardinals made two first downs in the first half and the Packers three. The Cardinals completed four of 10 passes for a gain of 60 yards. The Packers completed six of 17 passes for gains totaling 119 yards. The Packers gained 118 yards from scrimmage and the Cardinals made 93 yards on running plays. Nevers, Cobb Rooney, Kassel and Duke Slater, giant negro tackle, were outstanding for the Cardinals, Lavvie Dilweg and Michalske looked best for the Packers. Few of the other Packer players turned in the kind of football they are capable of playing.

SIDELIGHTS

OCT 28 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - It was a perfect day for football when the Cardinals and Packers took the field at Chicago. The sun was warm and there was little wind to interfere with punts. The White Sox field gave the appearance of a college bowl as it was enclosed on all four sides with double-decked grandstand seats running clear around the diamond...The Woodlawn Post American Legion band and drill team put on an impressive ceremony before the game, marching out on the field and going through splendid drills. The team is the National champion drill corps...It is not hard to understand why Ernie Nevers was almost a unanimous choice for an All-American berth in his college days. The former Coast star does everything well. He can hit the line, skirt and end, throw bullet-like passes and punt with any back in the league with the exception of Lewellen...Lew got off some fine punts that helped a lot to give the Packers the edge in the first three periods. The boots averaged about 15 yards more than those of Nevers...The Cardinals had a great pair of tackles working for them Sunday in Tinsley and Slater. Tinsley, who plays without a head gear, replaced Williams when the latter received a dislocated elbow in a play...Jug Earpe, veteran Packer center, sprained his arm early in the game and gave way to Darling, who played good consistent football at the pivot position. Dr. Kelly announced that the injury would probably lay Earpe up for five days or more...Don Hill, who was with the Packers in their early games this year, worked in the first and fourth periods for the Cardinals. His play was fair but not outstanding...Paul Minnick, who joined the Packers recently saw his first action of the year with the team Sunday. Minnick went at guard in the second half of the game. He broke through on a few occasions to toss Cardinal backs for losses...Michalske played his usual brilliant game in the first two periods, but in the third and fourth quarters charged in too quickly occasionally and missed the tackles on delayed buck plays...Dick O'Donnell and Dilweg played the full 60 minutes at ends, both played good football, although Dilweg was in the spotlight oftener than was O'Donnell. Hubbard and Michalske also played every minute of the game. Hubbard held his own most of the time against Cardinal

FREE FOR ALL FIGHT IN JACKET GRID GAME

STATEN ISLAND, N. Y.—(U.P.)—
A free for all fight broke out in the last period of Sunday's professional football game here between the Stapleton eleven and the Frankfort Yellow Jackets, won by the latter, 3 to 0. Night sticks were used by policemen to stop the fighting which started when Barna, Frankfort player, and Leary, Stapleton, fell to blows.

tackle...Red Dunn handled the quarterback position faultlessly again. He made some nice returns of punts and was a capable field general. Red was guilty of two fumbles but recovered on both occasions.

GREEN BAY TO PLAY JACKETS HERE SUNDAY

OCT 29 (Minneapolis Star) - Minneapolis fans next Sunday will have a chance to gaze upon what many critics say is the most powerful team ever organized in professional football. The aggregation is the mighty Green Bay Packers who remain undefeated in the National league with six victories to their credit. The Chicago Cardinals have been the only team to give them a close battle and that ended, 7 to 6. Owing to the fact that Minneapolis took the Cards, 14 to 7, there are those who think that the game at Nicollet park Sunday may develop a surprise result. The Packers include so many players of All-Eastern, All-Western and All-American renown that their roster reads like a blue book of the gridiron game. That the Badger city takes its football seriously may be seen in the case of Verne Lewellen, the famous Nebraska halfback and captain. He liked Green Bay so well after playing football there that he settled in the town and took up the practice of law. So big a hit did he make with the citizens they elected him district attorney last fall by a large majority. His election surprised politicians as he was one of the few Republicans successful in that sector last November. A large crowd of fans always follows the club unless the distance is too great. Those who stay at home assemble in an auditorium of 3,000 capacity and get the contest in a play by play description with a gridgraph. No matter whether the Packers are performing in New York, Philadelphia or Boston, a wire is leased just the same. Plans have been made during the week for a leased wire to Nicollet park Sunday. Herb Joesting said today that all his men were in good shape following the game with the Bears. The only serious casualty was Kenny Haycraft, who has his nose pushed to one side of his face and slightly fractured. The proboscis was well on the way to recovery today. Despite the wintry blasts that swept across the gridiron, the Jackets engaged in practice Monday at Nicollet.

PACKERS FACE JOESTING AND MATES SUNDAY

OCT 30 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - An overnight hop to Minneapolis is the next thing in store for the Green Bay Packers. The Bays will invade the Minnesota city Sunday seeking their seventh consecutive National league victory. Capt. "Curley" Lambeau is giving the team a stiff dose of practice for the tilt against Herb Joesting and his mates. The blocking was not all it should have been last weekend, and the forward passing defense also looked ragged at times, so particular stress is being laid on these departments of the game this week. The Red Jackets took a whipping at the hands of the Bears last week, so they will not be in a receptive frame of mind when they meet the Packers again. They also remember the 24 to 0 setback handed them in Green Bay, which likewise helps to stir them to greater things. Herb Joesting has a good collection of players, but they have failed to function smoothly in most of their games. They played real football a few weeks ago when they turned back the Cardinals, but since that time has been "off" their game. It is likely that they will come to life against the Packers, and if the Green Bay players get the idea they have a setup, they might experience the surprise of the year and "take it on the chin".

GREEN BAY IN BAD SHAPE FOR JOESTING GAME

OCT 30 (Minneapolis Star) - Word from Green Bay today indicates that several of the Packer stars are not feeling any too well after the terrific pummeling they received from the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday. This coupled with the fact that the Minneapolis Red Jackets are all in prime condition, gives the local boys an idea that they will have the distinction of being the first eleven in the country to halt the winning streak of the wild men from Wisconsin. Despite the recent inclement weather, the Jacks have been working daily at a greater speed and intensity than at any other stage of the season. Several changes will be made in the lineup for next Sunday's game at Nicollet Park, and the boys think they will be at the top of their power by that time. To a man, they realize that if they can tip over Green Bay, they will be recognized as the big shots of the National league. For that reason they have set their hearts to a win. And those who have watched the grim determination of the athletes this week say there is a mighty good chance for an upset in the dope. Realizing the danger of the Packers' passing game the Joestings are working hard on an airtight defense against that contingency. They are also working hard on the offense and several new and complicated plays are being mastered. Word from Green Bay is to the effect that the loyal fans down in that sector have a wholesome regard for the power of the Jackets. They felt that a team that is able to trim the Cardinals by a decisive score must have considerable football acumen. Twice the Packers had their hands full winning from Nevers' crew. The first time the score was 9 to 3, and the second clash ended 7 to 6. In the first game, the Chicagoans had the battle won until the closing minutes of the fourth quarter. A big turnout is expected Sunday because it will be the final appearance of the Joestings in Minneapolis this year.

PACKERS PLAY RED JACKETS HERE SUNDAY

OCT 30 (Minneapolis Star Tribune) - Green Bay, sensation of the NFL, is polishing up its artillery this week for the clash at Nicollet park Sunday with the Red Jackets. The Packers have won six games and lost none to date. The Chicago Cardinals have the Packers a close battle. The game ended 7-6. Owing to the fact that Minneapolis won from the Cards, 14-7, there are those who think that the games at Nicollet park Sunday may develop a surprise result. The Packers' lineup included numerous players of All-Eastern, All-Western and All-American renown. A large crowd of Packer fans always accompanies the team unless the distance is too great. RED JACKETS HOPE TO UPSET PACKERS

OCT 31 (Minneapolis Star Tribune) - The Minneapolis Red Jackets Wednesday were of firm opinion that they would be the first eleven to defeat the Green Bay Packers in National league play. Several reasons were assigned for this belief. One was that the men from the Badger commonwealth are in a highly battered state as a result of their bruising battle with the Cardinals last Sunday. Another is that the locals are in tip-top physical trim and are determined to win. Despite the recent inclement weather, the locals have been working daily at a greater speed and intensity than at any other stage of the season. Several changes will be made in the lineup for Sunday's game at Nicollet park and the boys think they will be at the top of their power by that time. PACKERS TO LEAVE GREEN BAY FRIDAY FOR MINNEAPOLIS

OCT 31 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Captain Curly Lambeau and his Packer football players will pull out tomorrow evening over the Northwestern road for Minneapolis where they battle Herb Joesting and other stars of the Northwest in a National league game. The team will arrive in Minneapolis early Saturday and is expected to take a short workout at the American association baseball park some time during the day. The game Sunday will be played at the ball park. The team will stop at Nicollet hotel while in Minneapolis. The Packers went through another stiff workout here this morning. Most of the players came through the game against the Cardinals in good shape and will be able to play against the Red Jackets. Jug Earpe, veteran center, still is suffering somewhat from a sprained arm, and may be missing from the front wall. Darling will fill in the center post if Earpe is not able to play. Eddie Kotal, who played more than half the game against the Cardinals with a leather brace on his back, is recovering rapidly and is expected to be in good shape again Sunday. Eddie was greatly handicapped last Sunday with the injury to his back, received in the game against the Red Jackets here two weeks ago. Capt. Lambeau announced today that Bullet Baker who has been with the Packers for two years and who was released last week, has signed to play with the Chicago Cardinals. Baker will make the eastern trip with the Cardinals this weekend and will play in the Frankford and Providence games Friday and Saturday.

GREEN BAY MAY SEND UNUSUAL BAND TO GAME

NOV 1 (Minneapolis Star) - Green Bay, Wis., today was threatening to send up its famous lumberjack band to officiate at the game next Sunday between the Red Jackets at Nicolett Park. This musical organization is not much on looks but its reputation is as far flung as the limits of the NFL. The band performs only during the football season and is never heard at a game unless the Packers are away from home. It is made up of obscure and permanent business men - merchants, bankers, mechanics and professional men. When the call is sounded for a trip out of town, the boys let their hair and whiskers grow, and garbed in mackinaws, they always live up to the best traditions of Paul Bunyan and his mighty men. None of the musicians is paid and their traveling expenses are defrayed by public subscription. To cut down the overhead, the artists always travel in day coaches, in the best lumberjack style. A move was started in Green Bay today to raise the expense money and, if it succeeds, Minneapolis will hear and see this renowned group. Since the inception of the football movement there, the band has been an important part of the scheme. Pro football, by the way, started down there in 1918. Since then, the eleven has played 120 games with a record of 78 won, 28 lost and 14 tied. In 1921, the club joined the National league and has never finished lower than sixth place. Despite the rain of the last few days, Managers Val Ness and John Dunn are making elaborate plans for Sunday's game and are preparing for the best crowd of the season. The fact that it is the last of the home schedule and that the mighty Packers will be the attraction, give the owners an idea the largest professional football crowd in the history of the city will be in attendance.

RED JACKETS DRILL IN RAIN FOR PACKER TILT

NOV 1 (Minneapolis Star Tribune) - Snow and rain have failed to dampen the ardor of the Joesting Red Jackets this week in their practice for the contest with Green Bay Sunday at Nicollet park. Paying no attention to the weather, the squad has been drilling for more than two hours daily all week. The players feel that if they must perform Sunday on a heavy field that this week's experience will stand them in good stead. Green Bay reports that the whole town is pulling for a victory and that a large delegation of fans will accompany the team. Fourteen members of the team live the year round in Green Bay. Earl Lambeau, former Notre Dame star, is the coach and he handles the squad like a college coach. The men practice every day except Monday. In six games at the municipal stadium at Green Bay this year, the attendance was close to the 47,000 mark. The game between the Packers and the Bears drew 13,000.

PRO GRID NOTES

NOV 1 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The pro football bug is still buzzing around in Pottsville. The Boston Bulldogs, composed mostly of former Pottsville Maroons, performed in the Minerville park on Sunday and Tuesday. Both games did well at the gate...The Buffalo club will have it out this weekend at home with the Cazenovias, a semi-pro aggregation. This fracas has kicked up considerable interest in Bisontown and the moguls anticipate a big crowd...The turnstiles are clicking merrily for Dr. David J. Jones, the new owner of the Chicago Cardinals. Nevers' tribe have played before some 24,000 gridiron fans in their two engagements in the Windy City this season...One of the feature engagements of the season is booked this Sunday at Wrigley field in Chicago, where the Bears will tackle Benny Friedman & Co. from New York. Friedman always packs them in tight at "Chi"...Pro football history will be written this weekend at Minneapolis where the Green Bay Packers will perform. The Bays have been playing pro league ball since 1921, but this is their maiden start on the Gopher prairie...This Boston club must be demons for punishment because they are playing a series of three games in a week. Meeting Buffalo, Orange and the Frankford Yellowjackets in the order named is a tough assignment for any club...A pleasant time must have been had by all last Sunday at Stapleton during the Islanders' joust with Frankford. Several of the players lost their heads and spectators likewise. The police finally restored peace...Red Grange came into his own against the Minneapolis Redjackets, playing a leading role in the Bears' 27 to 0 victory. The former Illini got away for several sensational dashes besides starring in the forward pass drive...Curley Oden, one of the greatest quarterbacks in pro football history, turned a deaf ear to an S.O.S call from the Providence Steamrollers. Oden is making touchdowns in business so will not return to the gridiron...Tait Elkins, famous Indian athlete, has returned to the Frankford battle front. Elkins was with the Jackets last season but had a "free agent" contract. This fall the Chief opened up with the Chicago Cardinals...Jim Durfee, one of the aces of President Joe Carr's officiating staff, continues to draw the tough assignments. Durfee keeps on top of the ball continually and he won't stand for any stalling by the opposing teams...The New York Giants took a 19-0 fall out of the Providence Steamrollers last Sunday. This was the second defeat this season that Conzelman's 1928 champions suffered at the hands of the Marsh-Mara-Andrews club...Ernie Nevers doesn't often miss a goal after touchdown but this was just what he did in the closing minutes of the Card-Green Bay argument and, as a result, Capt. Lambeau's Packers nosed out a 7 to 6 win...The Yellowjackets held the upper hand in the doubleheader with Stapleton over the past weekend. On Saturday at Frankford, the clubs battled to a 6-6 tie but on Sunday in Stapleton, the Hornets triumphed via a field goal...Skeets Martin,

The Green Bay Packers, undefeated in the National Football league, will present a formidable array of backs in their battle at Nicollet park this afternoon against Herb Joesting's Red Jackets. On the left is Hurdis McCrary, fullback, chosen all-American during his playing days at Georgia Tech university. Joe (Red) Dunn, formerly of Marquette, also was prominently mentioned for all-American during his college days. Below is Carl Lidberg, star Gopher fullback several years ago who is playing in the backfield for the Packers.

former backfield ace from Missouri, is playing splendid ball for Stapleton. Martin is a rugged customer with a good change of pace and, when given the cowhide, he generally gets somewhere...The Chicago Cardinals are billed for a double up schedule over the weekend as on Saturday they will exhibit their gridiron wares in Frankford while Sunday the Chicagoans will strut their stuff in Providence...The injury jinx is camping on the trail of the Minneapolis Red Jackets. The Dunn-men from up north have had two or three players on the hospital list all the time. Haycraft, a great end, broke his nose in the Bear contest...Pease, former Columbia captain, appears to be the spark plug of the Orange gridiron machine. He is a triple threat artist, working from a quarterback position and teams who have played Orange say Pease is plenty tough...Jack McBride has won a home for himself in Providence. This crashing fullback, who once was an all-America pro selection, seems to have found himself again and he is plunging like he did for dear old Syracuse...Sedbrook, one of the best running backs of the New York Giants, is picking up a lot of yardage outside of tackle. Several of his playmates in the backfield are great blockers and they generally open a hole a mile wide.

PACKERS LEAVE TO PLAY MINNEAPOLIS THERE ON SUNDAY

NOV 1 (Green Bay) - The Green Bay Packers left Green Bay today for Minneapolis where they meet the Minneapolis Red Jackets on Sunday. They scored a lopsided win over Joesting and Co. in a recent game at Green Bay. "Bullet" Baker, a backfield star who has been with the Packers for two years has been released to the Chicago Cardinals and will make the eastern trip with the Cardinals.

Many All-Americans to See Action in Professional Game at Nicollet Park; Bo Molenda Leads Green Bay Club

BAYS FAVORED TO WIN EIGHTH STRAIGHT GAME

NOV 2 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Unless the unexpected happens Sunday, the Green Bay Packers will take another step up the ladder that leads to the National professional football championship. The Bays will try to climb nearer the goal and increase their lead in the National league at the expense of Herb Joesting and other Red Jacket players in a game to be played at the American association park in Minneapolis. If Joesting and his mates play the kind of football they did against the Cardinals a few weeks ago, the Packers may find all of their plans upset and have a defeat chalked against them for the first time this year. The Bays are taking the game seriously, however, and have put in a hard week of practice. The entire squad, with the exception of Jug Earpe, is in good shape and will be fighting from the start to the finish to keep its record clean, and win the eighth consecutive game of the year. Jug Earpe, who has been the outstanding center in mid-western professional circles this year, may not be able to see action. "The Jugger" had his elbow wrenched last week and it still gives him a little trouble. Earpe will go with the team, however, and, if needed, will go into the game. Darling has been turning in some fine football recently, however, and probably will be able to handle the center position the entire game. For the first time in eleven year, Capt. Curly Lambeau will be missing when a Packer team takes the field. Lambeau was called out of town on other important business and will not be in Minneapolis with the squad. Verne Lewellen will be in charge in Curly's absence. Dr. W.W. Kelly, president of the Packer corporation, also will be with the team. Cully Lidberg, because of his knowledge of Minnesota plays, is expected to see most of the action in the Packers' fullback position, working with Lewellen, Dunn and Kotal. Blood and McCrary also are expected to see a lot of service as halfbacks and Bo Molenda may relieve Lidberg part of the time. Eddie Kotal has recovered from his recent injury to his hip and is expected to be as flashy as ever. Nydahl, Erickson, Sandberg and Joesting are likely to see most of the backline service for the Red Jackets. Ursella and Willegale also are available for backfield duties. #### GRID-GRAPH WILL SHOW GAME AT C.C.C. HERE

NOV 2 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - When the Packers take the field at the American association park in Minneapolis tomorrow, several hundred Green Bay fans will be in the Fern room of the Columbus club, waiting for the game to be re-played on the grid-graph board. A direct wire from Minneapolis to the Columbus club will carry a play-by-play account of the game, and trained operators will flash the action on the board a few moments after it happens in Minneapolis. The board shows scrimmage plays, offside penalties, forward passes, punts and other details of the game. First reports will come in about 1:30 p.m. and the game will get underway at 2 p.m. An added attraction at the Fern room will be a broadcast over the Vita-Vox system of the Platten radio company, of the Bear-Giant game in Chicago. Reports of the progress of the Chicago game will be given from time to time. Music played by one of the finest types of electric phonographs will also help to enliven the afternoon. The American sales company will present the musical program.

USE AIRMAIL TO RUSH TRUNK KEY TO PACKER TEAM

NOV 2 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - If it weren't for the air mail, the Packers might be playing football in their "Sunday clothes" at Minneapolis tomorrow. Bud Jorgensen, property man for the Big Bay Blues, handles the trunks and takes care of the trunk keys. Yesterday, the Packers' train pulled out, but Mr. Jorgensen was not aboard. And the trunk keys were in Mr. Jorgensen's pocket, he discovered late last evening. The property man placed them in an envelope, pasted it full of air mail stamps and sent it on the 12:30 train for Chicago. It was thought the keys would reach G.W. Calhoun, Packer secretary, this morning.

JOESTING TEAM SET TO TRIP LEAGUE LEADERS

NOV 2 (Minneapolis Star) - The 1929 curtain will be rung down on professional football in Minneapolis at Nicollet park tomorrow when Herb Joesting and his Red Jackets clash with Bo Molenda's mighty Packers from Green Bay. Particular interest is attached to this contest, because the visitors have the distinction of having won all six games they have played this year in the NFL. If the Jackets can upset the overconfident lads from the lake district of Wisconsin, they will immediately assume the limelight of all the professional football world. Despite a previous defeat at the hands of the Packers, the Joesting crew feels it is the team that has been ordained to trip up the fast sailing league leaders. Another reason for the Red Jackets' hunch is that, although they crashed the Chicago Cardinals for a 14-7 win, Green Bay's Packers were able to defeat Nevers' club last Sunday by only one point. The Jackets have been putting in some terrific practice licks during the week, and with a revamped lineup, a set of new plays and plenty determination, they will enter the contest with all sorts of courage. Local fans will remember the hard plunging Bo Molenda when he played at Michigan. Joesting has been seen in action at Nicollet park against another famous fullback, Ernie Nevers, and now the fans will have an opportunity to see him match wits against Molenda, an equally famous fullback. Bo's supporting cast is made up of a set of formidable footballers.

RED JACKETS TACKLE PACKERS HERE TODAY

NOV 3 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Minneapolis Red Jackets are primed for their greatest football clash this afternoon at Nicollet park where they tangle with the formidable Green Bay Packers. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock. In six games played to date in the NFL, the Green Bay gridders have been undefeated. They have high hopes of dangling the scalps of Joesting's men from their victorious belts, but just as confident are the locals of handing the touted Packers their first defeat of the season. Joesting said Saturday he had made several material changes in his lineup and that he feels the Jackets will go into action at the peak of their offensive and defensive strength. Inasmuch, too, that the contest will close the season for this year in Minneapolis, the Jackets are anxious to show to their best advantage. For the information of the fans it may be mentioned that five undisputed All-American performers will be seen in action. They are Joesting and Haycraft for Minneapolis, and Tom Nash of Georgia, Hurdis McCrary of the same school and August Michalske of Penn State for the Packers. Among the other big men that Green Bay will send into action today may be mentioned Carl Lidberg, former Minnesota fullback; Red Smith of Notre Dame; Paul Minick of Iowa; Bill Kern of Pittsburgh; Jim Bowdoin of Alabama; Verne Lewellen of Nebraska; Bo Molenda of Michigan; Claude Perry of Alabama; Lavvie Dilweg of Marquette; Bullet Baker of California and Red Dunn of Marquette. Plans have been made for a capacity crowd at Nicollet Park, with a large delegation expected from Green Bay.
