CARDS AND PACKERS IN 6 TO 6 TIE

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(CHICAGO) - After battling both Dame Fortune and the Chicago Cardinals to a standstill here Sunday at Normal park, the crippled Packers, by a wonderful exhibition of fighting spirit, came back in the closing minutes of the game and more than earned a tie with their opponents. The final score was 6 to 6 but in no way does it show how badly the Blues outplayed their rivals despite the fact that the Cardinals were a very much improved team over their appearance at Green Bay some weeks ago. The game was played before a small crowd even though the weather was ideal for football. Quite a few Green Bay fans were numbered among those present. Injuries kept three regulars of the team on the sidelines. Both Cahoon and Rosatti, regular tackles, were on the bench as was Rex Enright, who usually does duty at fullback. Despite the loss of these three, the Blues were in battling every minute and deserve great praise for the uphill battle which they put up. For over three quarters of the game, the Chicago jinx did its best to thrust the Packers into defeat but the determination of Captain Lambeau and his crew could not be denied and they finally tied the score by dint of one of the greatest exhibitions of fighting spirit ever staged on a football field in this city.

CAPT. LAMBEAU STARS

Outstanding in the lineup, of course, was the work of Captain Lambeau, whose play during the entire affair, seemed inspired. The Packer leader, who was playing his first pro league game at fullback, backed up the line line a tackling demon, plunged with abandon of a mad bull and passed with the accuracy and daring for which no doubt will earn him a place on the All American pro team. Lewellen also showed gobs of class, his punting being a great help in keeping the ball in Cards territory during most of the entire game. But in picking these players as the stars of the Packer team one must not overlook the fact that every gridder who played in the game has a world of credit coming for the fine things which he did. As stated before the Cardinals were a much improved team over their appearance at Green Bay several weeks ago. Although play was always in their territory they did fine work on defense especially on the half dozen or more occasions when the Packers were threatening their goal. Springsteen especially did some great work on the defensive and Weller too stopped many of the Packer attacks and keeping pace with him was Duke Slater. McDonnell was the star of the backline and he carried the brunt of his team's attack. Swanson did some nifty passing. During the first quarter play was practically always confined to Cardinal territory. During this period the Blues had one splendid chance to score. A well timed offensive carried the ball to a point almost in front of the Card goal post but the Chicagoans held and forced Dunn to try a field goal.

Red attempted a kick from placement and just missed by a matter of inches. The kick was high enough but just a little bit wide of the posts.

CATCHES HORSESHOE PASS

In the second period play was about the same as during the first quarter. However, with just a little time left before the close of the half, McDonnell, the Card halfback, tried a long forward pass. He was rushed and threw the ball only with the hope of getting rid of it. Dunn and Lewellen rushed over to knock the pass to the ground and the ball just grazed their fingertips and bounced into the waiting arms of Weller, who galloped about 15 yards for the touchdown which looked for a time as if it might be the margin of victory between the teams. Swanson missed the extra point attempt. But right here is the place where the Packers started out to show their remarkable fighting spirit. Some dashes through the line and some passes carried the ball straight down the field and with a scant 30 seconds to play the ball was resting on the Cards' 9 yard line. Captain Lambeau decided to place his hopes for scoring on a forward pass but in vain for the pass was incomplete behind the goal. Time after time during the third and fourth periods, the Packers rushed the ball down the field with some nifty line smashing and passing but always when it seemed as if they surely must score. Dame Fortune came to the rescue of the Cardinals and a pass over the goal line was grounded. However, the Bays were not to be denied. With the game fast drawing to a close, the Packers came down the field once again. Passes first to Perry, then to Dilweg, and finally one to Eddie Kotal carried the ball to the one yard line from where Lewellen slashed through the line for the touchdown. Needless to say, joy reigned among the Green Bay rooters and disappointment among the Cardinal fans. Dunn tried to win the game by adding the extra point with a placekick but the kick was blocked by several Cards, who came through the line like a flood.

MAHONEY GRABS PASS

But there was one more thrill yet to be dished out to the fans. Captain Lambeau tried to pass on which he was rushed. He attempted the throw to Lewellen toward the side of the field but Mahoney dashed in ahead of Lew and grabbed the ball and started a dash toward Packer goal and it looked as if he were headed for a touchdown. However, Dunn caught up to him about on the Packer 14 yard line and downed him, much to the joy of the Green Bayites. Things sure looked dark for a minute but the Packers had already had too many tough breaks to lose the game on such a break as this.

ONLY ONE SUBSTITUTION

And after a few plays it was all over, even the shouting. The Cards tried two rushes without gaining much yardage and then Swanson missed a field goal attempt by a city block. The Bays put the ball into play on the 20-yard line and Capt. Lambeau slashed through for a chalkmark. On this thrust, the Bay leader was hurt and had to leave the game. Basing replaced him. This was the only substitution made during the game by the Bays. It was a tough game for the Blues not to win but a half hoof is better than none especially when you have to battle not only Dame Fortune but your opponents as well. And the "old dame" sure was the best player in the lineup of the Cards and Chris O'Brien owes her at least a vote of thanks. And it might be added too that the work of Referee Durfee during the game was highly pleasing and he handled it to the satisfaction of all concerned. He followed the ball closely and made his decisions as he saw them, despite the hostile Cardinal crowd.

DAYTON HOPES TO BUMP OFF PACKERS

NOV 8 (Dayton) - The Dayton Triangles are going to make their second football pilgrimage of the season to Green Bay, Wis., on Sunday and Manager Redelle has a hunch that this time out his team will get even for the 24-0 early season trimming received at the hands of the Badger state champions. Since the fray with the Packers, the Dayton club has just about played around the circuit and there isn't a city in Joe Carr's football loop that wouldn't welcome the Triangles back again...WHIP YELLOWJACKETS: After the upset at the hands of Green Bay, Dayton journeyed to Frankford and whipped the Yellowjackets, 6 to 3. The Triangles returned home and took a 6 to 3 beating at the hands of the New York Yankees. Dayton had the combat sewed up until the last three minutes of play when Bullet Baker received a punt and dashed 60 yards down field for a touchdown. Frankford wasn't satisfied with the licking received by Dayton so Redelle and his crew were invited back again. This game ended in a 0-0 tie and even the most loyal Yellowjacket rooters were forced to admit that their club was lucky to escape another reversal. Immediately after this game, the Triangles boarded a train and rode all night to Chicago for the game with the Cardinals. It was even up until the last minute of play when Chris O'Brien's mob pushed over a single touchdown...FUMBLE IS COSTLY: Oct. 23, the Daytonians performed in Providence and took the short end of a 7 to 0 count. A costly fumble in the third quarter put the Rhode Islanders within scoring distance and the Conzelman club made the best of the opportunity as Pritchard plunged across for the only marker of the game. The next Sunday saw Dayton playing in Chicago against the Bears at Cubs park. The Ohioans held a 6 to 0 lead until early in the fourth quarter when the Bruins got going and pushed across a couple of touchdowns. In between league games, Dayton has found time to tackle outsiders and the Triangles emerged successful in both games. The Canton Bulldogs fell by a 13 to 0 count while the Columbus Tigers succumbed, 21 to 3. The Dayton club has a reputation of being a great ball-hawk aggregation. In other words, the Triangle players are right at home when it comes to grabbing fumbles. Graham, the giant guard, scooped a loose ball in the first Philadelphia game and lugged his 240 pounds for some 70 yards and a touchdown...SCOOPS UP FUMBLE: In the fray against the Bears, Belanich, one of the best tackles in the National league, picked up the cowhide after it had been dropped by an overhasty Bruin and a touchdown resulted. One of the Bears tackled Belanich as he passed the 10-yard stripe but he struggled over for the score. Sneeze Achui, the flying Chinaman, has found the pro game very much to his liking. Experts predicted that Achui wouldn't be able to stand the gaff but he is still going strong. His own field running has featured several of the Dayton game...TAYS AT QUARTER: Bill Tays, quarter, joined Dayton shortly after the Packer game. He has had a lot of pro football experience as he was with the Chicago Cards for three seasons. He is somewhat of a pass specialist. Earl Britton, who cleared the way for Red Grange when he was at Illinois, is turning in a great job at fullback and he hasn't been outclassed this year when it comes to punting. The kicking duel between Britton and Lewellen should be a great one for the spectators.

TURNSTILES CLICK MERRILY AT PRO FOOTBALL CONTESTS

NOV 8 (New York) - Professional football has made and paid its own way in the sports world this fall. Despite the absence of the noisy opposition which for a couple of seasons served as "attention caller" to the professional game, the turnstiles are clicking busily and Charley Pyle and Joe Carr are wearing broad smiles. Charley told me recently that his New York Yankees, who opened the season on the road and are not due at their home stadium until tomorrow, should net him a cool $50,000 this year. And the Yankees, for all they have Red Grange, are only one of 12 teams in the NFL, which Joe Carr is president. For the past two seasons, agitation against professional football sent a lot of people out to parks to see what it is all about. Once the opposition died away, it became a question of whether pro football could draw sufficient gate receipts to pay its way. Obviously, professional football can do that very thing. Pyle's record of receipts at the Yankee's games in the middle west showed a constant increase. And the more attractive games are yet to come. What do the men who play the game get out of it? If Charley Pyle expects to make $50,000 for a couple of months on the sidelines, what of the not-so-youngsters who toil and and grovel in the mud of midfield? The average player, who has not an "All-America" tag to make him a drawing card, gets around $100 a game. The stars get what they can command. Red Grange, of course, is part owner of the New York Yankees. Pyle's team is better paid than some of the others, because its opportunities for money-making are greater. The linesmen receive from $100 to $200 a game, but are required to practice each day when there is not a game, so that their incomes are restricted, for the most part, to what they make out of professional football. Charley estimates that his Yankees cost him around $3,500 a week. He carries 21 men on the squad, although the number eligible for any one game is limited to 18 by the rules of the NFL. Professional stars like Grange, Eddie Tyron, "Wild Bill" Kelly, Benny Friedman and others naturally are in a position to make pretty fair dough out of the business. At least, it is better than selling bonds. Pyle is ready at any time to make attractive offers to college stars. The rules forbid his doing so until the close of the intercollegiate season. They also forbid a college player joining a pro team until the autumn after his graduation. But the rules can't prevent the promoter and others from looking ahead and speculating on just how much "Pudge" Hoozis, the demon halfback of dear old Harvard, will be worth as a gate attraction next year. Charley Pyle knows football. He talks eagerly of college stars. A certain eastern halfback had scarcely reached the headline in the Sunday papers last month before the promoter was asking all about him, was he really good, could he kick and run and pass, and, most important of all, stand out for the grandstand?

PACKERS WIND UP SEASON AT HOME SUNDAY

NOV 9 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Sunday the Packers will make their farewell appearance of the 1927 football season at home and it is the hope of the Green Bay Football corporation directors that the fans will turn out en masse and show Capt. Lambeau and his sturdy gridders that their efforts of the past couple of months have been appreciated. In speaking about Sunday's game with the Dayton Triangles, A.B. Turnbull, president of the Green Bay Football corporation, had this to say: "We are in hopes that Sunday's crowd will be one of the largest of the season. The Football corporation has gone to a lot of expense in order to keep faith with the loyal fans who purchased season tickets on an eight game basis."...DAYTON FINALLY BOOKED: "The withdrawal of Buffalo from the National league has put us in a hole so far as home games were concerned but, through the assistance of Joe F. Carr, president of the National league, we were able to put through a schedule shift and the game with Dayton was closed. From a football point of view, it should be a great game. The Dayton club looked mighty good in its first appearance here early in September and scores of their most recent games show plainly that Dayton is a tough outfit for any team in the league to beat."...HAVE SEVERAL STARS: "Grange's New York Yankees only nosed out the Triangles in an 'eleventh hour' rally and the Ohioans were leading the Bears right up until the final quarter. In Earl Britton, fullback; Belanich, tackle; Graham, guard, and Achui, halfback, Dayton has several players who are making a strong bid for all-American profession football fame. The Packers are still very much in the fight for the National league championship but the hardest part of their schedule is ahead because, following Sunday's game, the Green Bay club will be on the road for the remainder of the season. Green Bay is known the country over for its football spirit and Sunday will be a good time to show it. I trust that there will be an unusually large crowd in attendance and the enthusiasm so great that the players will still be remembering it when they go battling down the long football trail for national honors in the larger cities like Chicago, Philadelphia and Providence."...INVITE SCHOOL TEAMS: The Packer management has invited the football squad from twenty-five of the leading high schools in Northeastern Wisconsin to be guests at Sunday's game. The scholastic gridders will all be parked in the north stands. At least five hundred youthful knights of the cowhide are

SOME TACKLE

PETE BELANICH

Belanich, speedy tackle of the Dayton Triangles, is one of the best forwards in the professional gridiron. This is the first year out but he is making a great name for himself.

Belanich broke into the Hall of Fame when he scooped up a fumble while playing against the Bears in Chicago and galloped some 60 odd yards for a touchdown.

expected to be present. The Bays came out of the Cardinal fracas in pretty good shape. Capt. Lambeau's side is giving him some trouble but, according to Dr. W.W. Kelly, the Bays' leader will be fit to go when the whistle blows. The other players, who saw action against the O'Brien-Chamberlin aggregation are O.K., it is said. Rosatti, Cahoon and Enright are about ready to go again. These players haven't seen action since Red Grange played here. They could have been used last Sunday but Capt. Lambeau wisely kept them on the bench so as to have them "fit as a fiddle" for the remainder of the season.

LUMBERJACK BAND TO MAKE CHICAGO JAUNT FOR BEAR ARGUMENT

NOV 9 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Football fans have approved the plan to send the Lumberjack band to Chicago for the Bear game on Nov. 20. A.C. Witteborg has volunteered to head the fund gathering committee and other businessmen have pledged their assistance, financial and otherwise. Contribution buckets will be passed around the City stadium on Sunday during the Dayton-Packer game and it is hoped that the donations will be heavy enough to carry the load without any further efforts. In the meantime, the member of the Legion band, who will turn Lumberjacks for a period of about 24 hours, are getting together their hob-nailed shoes, rough mackinaws and corduroy pants for the occasion. And about next Tuesday, the musicians will start letting their whiskers grow so as to complete the lumberjack picture. Both railroads are running excursions to Chicago for the Bear game and it is likely that there will be about 3,000 Green Bay fans down there at Cubs park, rooting for the Packers. And how!

PACKERS TITLE CHANCES ARE GOOD

PACKER TITLE CHANCES ARE GOOD

NOV 10 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Chasing down the home stretch of the National league pennant chase, the Packers have a corking good chance to cop the 1927 championship. Right now, the Big Bay Blues are only one game behind the pace setting New York Giants and the margin should be whittled down to a percentage table "half game" by Sunday night as the New Yorkers have a non-league game engagement booked while the Bays give battle to Dayton. Here is where the "if" comes in. If the Packers win the four remaining league games on their schedule, it is hard to figure how they can be kept off the top of the heap. However, a single defeat will puncture the championship dream bubble...THREE LEAGUE

GAMES AWAY: The Big Bay

Blues tangle with the Dayton Triangles here Sunday. Then they start a three game road trip, facing the Bears in Chicago on Nov. 20; the Yellowjackets in Philadelphia Thanksgiving Day, and the Steamrollers in Providence, Dec. 11. The couple of open dates in between Nov. 24 and the Providence affair will probably be filled in with non-league teams, the results of which won't cut any figure in the percentage table. A glance at the dope bucket shows that, on paper, the Packers have a bit of an edge on Dayton, Frankford and Providence. However, the Bear game is the big hurdle for Lambeau & Co. The teams met once this year and the Bruins emerged a victory by a one point margin. However, the Packer players are determined to reverse the verdict in the game which will be played at Cubs park, Chicago, a week from Sunday...TRIO OF TEAMS BUNCHED: There is no question but that the National league race has simmered down to three clubs, the N.Y. Giants, Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers as every other team in the loop has lost three or more games. The N.Y. Yanks, Providence and Cleveland might be considered in the running but the three leaders would have to hit the skids fast in order to have any of the secondary trio climb to the top of the heap. The Chicago Bears have a tough program ahead. Sunday, the Bruins entertain the Pottsville club in the Windy City. The Miners have looked a bit better of late and they may make things interesting. Nov. 20, the Packers face the Bears and there should be plenty of fur flying...PLAY CARDS, THEN GIANTS: Thanksgiving Day, the Bears mix with their old rivals, the Chicago Cardinals, and this won't be any parlor soft match either. Following this match, the Bears jump a train and head for New York where they mix with the Giants on Nov. 27. Saturday, Dec. 3, sees the Bruins still in the east playing the Yellowjackets at Frankford and as soon as the game is over both clubs jump on a train and speed to Chicago for another fracas Sunday Sunday, Dec. 11, Duluth is booked for Cubs park. This is a tough series of games and the Bears sure will be a wonder team if they emerge with a clean slate. As said before, the Giants are idle this Sunday. On Nov. 20, the New Yorkers are playing at home against the Chicago Cardinals. They have no league game booked for Thanksgiving Day but will eat turkey and store up some additional energy for the Nov. 27 tilt with the Chicago Bears at the Polo Grounds...N.Y. SERIES OPEN DEC. 4: The New York interseries starts on Dec. 4 with the Yanks playing at the Giants park. A week later the scene shifts to the Yankee stadium and if the series is even the clubs will meet again on Dec. 18. The dash down the final lap promises to develop into a red hot finish and, if the Bays can ride through to four victories, there won't be any "if" to it about the championship teams because it is pretty near a sure bet that both the Bears and Giants will drop at least one if not two games.

LEAVE SATURDAY MORNING

NOV 11 (Dayton, OH) - Headed by Manager Redelle and Coach Carl Storck, the Dayton Triangles will leave here Saturday morning for Green Bay, Wis., where on Sunday, they are scheduled to have it out with the Packers in a National league game. This will be the Triangles' second invasion of the Badger football metropolis this season. Early in September, the Dayton club played the Packers and took a 14 to 0 licking. However, this time out the Triangles hope to change the story and smother the Green Bay dreams of a National league championship. According to Coach Storck, the Dayton club is ready for the whistle. The team took a layoff last Sunday and is ready to go again. Practice sessions have been held all week and special attention had been given to a pass defense because Coach Storck knows that the Packers for years have had a nasty habit of always filling the air full of footballs.

BULLETIN

NOV 11 (Columbus, OH) - President Joe Carr of the NFL has appointed a trio of Chicagoans to work the Packer-Dayton game in Green Bay on Sunday. Bobbie Cahn will referee; Meyer Morris it to do the umpiring while George Lowrie will be in charge of the line sticks.

500 SCHOOLER WILL PACKER-DAYTON GAME

NOV 11 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Some five hundred gridiron warriors from Northeastern Wisconsin and upper Michigan will be the guests of the Green Bay Football corporation at Sunday's game between the Packers and the Dayton Triangles at the City stadium. From Menominee on the north and to Fond du Lac on south, the future stars will come and the Bay management has made arrangements to house them all together in the north stands. It is quite possible that between halves the schoolers will enliven the afternoon by cutting loose with some of their alma mater yells...ACCEPTANCES POUR IN: The invitation from the Packer management had been in the mails but a dozen hours before replies came rushing in from the principals, all of whom were enthusiastic over the chance for their students to glimpse the Big Bay Blues in action on the chalkmarked field. And according to Capt. Lambeau, the Packers will cut wide open their bag of tricks and show the school boys how it is done in a professional way. The youngsters, who have read so much about the famous Packers, will get a chance to see all the favorites in action as changes will probably be frequent in the Green Bay battle front. The weather this week hasn't been so good for practice but the team has been splashing around in the slush just the same. One experience with Dayton taught the Packers that they will have to be on their toes if they expect to keep the bacon at home.

PRO FOOTBALL GOSSIP

NOV 11 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Providence Steamrollers startled the pro football world by holding the Chicago Bears to a no score tie. Conzelman and his crew didn't show much on the offense but defensively they had a shade on the Bruins...Wildcat Wilson, the Providence ace, turned in a wonderful exhibition of punting and his soaring spirals got the Steamrollers out of many a tight spot. Driscoll, the Bear field goal expert, went bad on four attempts...With a certain Mr. Grange still decorating the sidelines and rubbing his ailing knee, the New York Yankees were submerged in the mud at Luna park, Cleveland, by the Bulldogs, 15 to 0. The Pyle-men never had a chance...Despite a muck-covered cowhide, Benny Friedman hurled the oval with deadly accuracy. It was two of his bullet-like tosses that paved the way for Cleveland scores. One goal was kicked. The other two points were a safety...The old rivals, Frankford and Pottsville, made it 50-50 in their weekend gridiron carnival. The Jackets copped the Saturday argument at home to the tune of 10-0 but the Miners took the Sabbath day fracas, 9 to 0...Pete Henry, one of the real veterans of $$$$ football, flashed in the limelight for Pottsville Sunday against the Hornets. He booted a field goal, 23 yards out. The Miners' touchdown was made by Joe (Whippet) Carr...The Duluth Eskimos found the New York Giants just a bit too tough to snowshoe over. Nevers and his clan battled all the way but the Broadwayites passed and slashed their way to a well deserved 21 to 0 victory...McBride, the Giants' fullback, had a perfect day with his educated toe against the Eskimos as he kicked three out of three extra points. The New York Giant touchdowns were negotiated by Mule Watson, Hinky Haines and Wyckoff...The Green Bay Packers invaded Chicago and battled the Cardinals to a 6-6 tie. Chamberlin's crew counted in the second stanza when Brute Weller grabbed a pass after two of the Bays partly knocked the ball down...The Packers knotted the count in the last five minutes of play. Three well executed forward passes carried the oval 60 yards down field and Lewellen knifed the line for a touchdown. The Cards blocked the goal attempt...Before the Packer -Cardinal game started, William Brennan, one of Chris O'Briens's veterans, was presented with a purse of $1,000 by his admirers. The husky guard is going good in his twentieth year on the chalk-marked field...Uncle Charlie Moran has severed his football connections with the Philadelphia Yellowjackets. The gridiron mentor who put Centre college on the football map, found the postgraduate game rather difficult going...Youngfleisch, the Pottsville center, is still confined to the hospital with the fractured leg that he suffered in the game against the Giants. His absence is felt by the Miners as the Villanova product was showing class...Horse Edwards, who a few years back ran a pro team in Cleveland, is working often as an official in the National league. The Chicago Cards play the Yanks in New York; Duluth performs in Providence; Pottsville goes to Chicago to tackle the Bears while Dayton is scheduled for Green Bay.

PACKERS AND DAYTON MEET SUNDAY

NOV 12 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Green Bay Packers, model of 1927, will make its final appearance of the season at home Sunday afternoon in a NFL game against the Dayton Triangle. As usual the whistle will blow at 2:15. The Ohioans are coming here with an all-star lineup which includes Achui, the only Chinese playing big time football; Earl Britton, the husky fullback, who in his college days at Illinois did a lot to put Red Grange into the big headlines and Bill Graham, a graduate of the school of hard knocks, who looks like a sure bet for a guard position on the all-American professional selection...PLAYED HERE BEFORE: This is Dayton's second appearance here this season. The Triangles invaded the Bay early in September and took a 14 to 0 beating after an exciting battle. Ever that time, Manager Redelle of the Dayton club sought a chance for revenge and when the Buffalo eleven did a fade out, the way was paved for the Triangles to make a return trip here. The Ohioans have played nearly every club in Joe Carr's wheel and all around the circuit they are rated as a tough eleven to beat. Providence, Chicago Bears and Cards and New York Yankees have whipped the Triangles but, in every case, it wasn't until the final minutes of play that spelled defeat for Redelle and his gridders. Dayton started the Frankford Yellowjackets on the downgrade and the Pennsylvanians haven't righted themselves yet...500 SCHOOL FOOTBALLERS: The Packers will probably perform before their most critical audience of the season Sunday, because some 500 high school footballers and their coaches from Northeastern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan will be in attendance as guests of the Green Bay Football corporation. Many of these gridiron stars of tomorrow have never seen the Big Bay Blues perform and it is a good bet that the schoolers will be "all eyes" for everything that happens on the playing field. The high school squad will be parked in the north stands and it is possible that they may get noisy with their yells at halves. Good officiating is assured as Bobbie Cahn will be tooting the whistle as referee. Working with him are two other Chicagoans, Meyer Morris and George Lawrie, both of whom have seen service here this season...CHINESE IN BACKFIELD: The Triangles have a Chinese and Hawaiian in the backfield and both of 'em are first class footballers. Sneeze Achui, a Chinese, played three years of varsity football at the University of Dayton and got away with flying colors. He was also a track man and was credited with stepping the century in 10 seconds flat. Achui is a first class open field runner and splendid receiver of the forward pass. His partner is August Cabrina, Hawaiian, who was Achui's teammate at Dayton U. The Islander bobbed into gridiron fame in 1925 when playing against the Haskell Indians, he nabbed a pass and dashed 78 yards down the field for the only touchdown of the game. Achui and his sidekick, Cabrina, were the pass luminaries for Dayton U two years running. The Chinese does the majority of the tossing with the Hawaiian on the receiving end...EXPECT BIG CROWD: Indications point to a big crowd at the Packers' "farewell party". Tickets have been moving fast since they were put on sale and there has been a heavy demand for ducats from out-of-town customers. Packer ticket men will pick up all uncalled for pasteboards when they make the rounds of the places having ducats on sale Saturday night. However, a ticket office in The Press-Gazette building will be open Saturday night and Sunday morning from 9:30 until noon to handle the out-of-towners and those who delay until the 'eleventh hour' to purchase their tickets. The ticket booths and the gates at the City stadium will be opened promptly at 12:30. No general admission tickets to Packer games are sold elsewhere than at the stadium and generally the line of bleacherites forms at least an hour before it is time to do business...LEGION AND CITY POLICE: The stage is all set to handle a big crowd at the City stadium. City and Legion police will patrol the "fence zone" and ward off the gate crashers while the crew of ushers and ticket-takers are all set for business. The American Legion band will be on the job to distribute the music necessary for the fray.

125 FARES NEEDED FOR SPECIAL TRAIN TO CHICAGO, NOV. 20

NOVEMBER 12 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Packer football fans planning to take in the game at Chicago next Sunday against the Bears are urged to get in touch with A.C. Witteborg at the Beaumont hotel. It is necessary to have 125 "fares" paid in advance to assure the special which will leave here early Sunday morning. The rate will be $7.11 for the round trip. Sunday afternoon at the Dayton game, buckets will be passed among the spectators for donations to help foot the bill for the Legion Lumberjack band trip to Chicago. The fans are urged to do their bit.

PACKERS AND DAYTON MEET SUNDAY

2 IMPORTED STARS WITH DAYTON

"SNEEZE" ACHIU

An honest-to-goodness Chinaman will be seen in action with the Dayton Triangles at the city stadium Sunday, when the Ohio club rubs elbows with the Packers.

His name is "Sneeze" Achiu and he plays halfback. The Chinese is a flashy halfback and while at Dayton "U", he delivered a flashy brand of football.

OLLIE CABRINA

Here is a product of the Hawaiian islands, who has made a name for himself on the professional gridiron this fall. Like Achiu, Ollie Cabrina is a product of Dayton "U", where he played varsity football for three years.

The Islander is a fleet open field runner and good pass receiver besides being a first class bootsmith.
