PACKERS WHIP DAYTON, SCORE 9-0

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(GREEN BAY) - A charging army of Packer players swept down the field at the City stadium here Sunday afternoon like a Kansas tornado crashing down on a wheat field. The advance did not stop until the golden-jerseyed Bays chalked up a 9 to 0 victory against the Dayton Motors in the first NFL game of the season. More than 5,000 fans saw the teams in action. The Packers were on the offense continually, keeping the play in Dayton territory. The Ohioans constantly punted to keep out of danger and seldom carried the play into the Packer half of the field. The Packer goal line was never seriously threatened. The Packers executed 12 first downs to two for Dayton. The Packers outplayed and outclassed the Ohio eleven in the first half of the game and threatened to score on three occasions. The Dayton men put up a stubborn defense of their goal whenever it was threatened however, and the Packers could not cross the line. Soon after the start of the second half, it was apparent that the Packers were not to be denied. They started a march from the center of the field that took them down to the five-yard line in a series of smashes and passes. But again the Dayton team, backed up against its own goal, refused to let the Bays march onward. The Ohio line held as the Packers tried a plunge, but Verne Lewellen, winged-footed Brown county district attorney, raced far to the left and across the line to catch a pass thrown by Dunn for a score. Lew had to leap high into the air and take the ball into his arms. Dunn's placekick for an extra point was good and the Packers had a 7 to 0 advantage.

PASS IS BAD

The other two points also came to the Packers in the third period. Buchanan, Dayton halfback, was back to punt on his fourth down, on the play that gave the Bays two extra points. The ball from center sailed far over his head, and went beyond the end zone where it was downed, for a safety. The touchdown play made by Lewellen climaxed a day of outstanding work by the young district attorney. Lew thrilled spectators time after time, with great runs, twisting and pivoting through broken fields to gain many yards for the Packers. His punting, as usual, also was great. Lewellen wasn't the only Packer that turned in a great game. All of the backfield men worked smoothly and ripped through the Dayton squad for gains. The Packer line charged better than it has in many years, making fine holes for backfield men. Michalske and Perry were outstanding on the line, although the work of every other man also was above that of other seasons. Lavvie Dilweg came into his own again, going down on punts and breaking up plays, while Earpe and Darling handled the center position faultlessly, neither making a bad pass and blocking opposing linemen from coming through the center of the line.

HUBBARD LOOKS GOOD

Cal Hubbard, playing his first game in a Packer uniform, proved a great help. He was pulled back to the roving center position on the defense and played end on offense, and in both places did fine work. The name of McCrary also was on the lips of almost every fan after the game. The former Georgia flash was hard to stop whenever he carried the ball, and ripped off gains from two to ten yards almost every try. Bo Molenda and Lidberg, the other pair of Packer fullbacks, also played great football. Bo's plunges in the first quarter were responsible for two first downs and he backed up the line nicely. The Packers made a pair of first downs in the first quarter and a forward pass, Blood to Molenda, gave them the ball on the Dayton 26 yard line. Molenda made a fine catch of the ball to complete the pass. A pair of penalties and a missed signal by Packer backfield men resulted in another loss of ten yards and the Bays were back on the 40 yard line as the quarter ended. Blood punted over the goal line at the start of the second quarter and after another exchange of punts Dayton started play from its 20 yard line. Buchanan then fumbled a low pass from center for a loss of 10 yards and on the next play punted out of danger.

MOLENDIA INTERCEPTS PASS

After another exchange of punts, Dayton tried a forward pass deep in its own territory that Molenda intercepted and brought back to the Dayton 28 yard line before he was downed. A pair of plays resulted in no gain for the Packers and, on a forward pass play, Buchanan intercepted for Dayton. Buchanan again punted and Dunn brought the ball back to the 40 yard line and the Packers again started a march down the field. Lewellen, Kotal and McCrary alternated in carrying the ball on a series of plays that brought the ball to the 7 yard line but McCrary fumbled at this point, Dayton recovering. Dayton again punted out of danger and the Packers had to start their march over again. A sensational catch of a forward pass by Lavvie Dilweg brought the Packers back to the eight yard line soon after Dayton punted out of danger, but again they failed to put the ball over the goal line. Kotal advanced the ball three yards on a first down, but McCrary and Dunn failed to gain and on the fourth down, a pass over the goal line gave the ball to Dayton on the twenty-yard strip. Dayton again punted to midfield and Lewellen, McCrary and Kotal again brought it back more than half the distance to the goal line on a series of off-tackle smashes and end runs. A pass was tried to Dilweg and Lavvie made a great attempt to reach the ball but he was blocked by Dayton player and could not quite reach the ball. The umpire did not see the blocking so no penalty was inflicted on Dayton.

KOTAL STARTS MARCH

After the kickoff to start the second half Kotal started the march that ended in a touchdown by making 8 yards through tackle. McCrary added six more yards for a first down and then Lewellen went around left end for six yards. A penalty on Dayton for offside play helped advance the ball further and McCrary and Lewellen continued to pound Dayton's ends for gains from two to ten yards. Dunn and Kotal also helped in the parade giving excellent interference. The Bays made it first down and goal to gain on the Dayton five yard line. A line buck failed and Dunn dropped back as Lewellen raced to the left and took Red's long pass for a touchdown. Dunn's placekick went squarely between the uprights for the extra point. After the kickoff, Sillin tried a pass which Dilweg knocked down and then Dayton was guilty of holding and received a 15-yard penalty. On the next play Buchanan went back to punt but fumbled the ball and Cahoon and Michalske downed him on the one yard line. On the next play the center passed the ball high over Buchanan's head as the latter was back to punt. The ball went beyond the end zone and as a result counted a safety for the Packers. The Packers had possession of the ball most of the time in the final quarter but failed to cross the line. A forward pass to Eddie Kotal put the Bays in scoring distance on one occasions but they lost it soon after that when Buchanan intercepted another heave. A few minutes later, Dilweg intercepted a Dayton pass and the Packers took the ball back to the 33 yard line. Dunn punted out of bounds on the 24 yard line when the team failed to gain consistently and Dayton again started a desperate forward passing attack. O'Donnell intercepted the first heave and brought the ball back to the Dayton 10 yard line before he was stopped. Hill made four yards and Lidberg added another pair. Hill then went over center for two yards and on the fourth down Kotal tried to make the final pair but was stopped a yard short of the goal and the ball went to Dayon on its own one yard line.

PREPARE FOR GREEN BAY INVASION

SEPT 24 (Chicago) - With a lineup of new football celebrities whip Sunday took their first victory of the season from the Minneapolis Marines by a count of 19 to 6, the Chicago Bears began this week to prepare for what is likely to be one of the toughest engagements on their schedule, the tussle with the Green Bay Packers in the Badger city next Sunday. From the appearance of things the Sept. 29 game will decide the football supremacy of the middle west in pro circles. In Green Bay, a town of less than 40,000 the citizens turn out each year to support one of the hardest fighting and snappiest gridiron team in the professional circle. Past years have proven to the Bears and to other contenders for honors that the Packers are a hard nut to crack, and rumors from up north this year indicate that the job is going to be tougher this year than ever before. But fortified as the Packers with a first class importation of new blood, they will find the Bears giving them more opposition Sunday than in other years. These two teams, presenting in their lineups the cream of the football world, give promise of offering as entertaining a contest as has been seen on any field in the country...PADDY BACK AGAIN: All of the old timers come famous through their association with the Bears are back in uniform, and playing true to style in the practice sessions. Paddy Driscoll, perhaps the best known veteran pro in the country, is back in moleskins again this year. Joey Sternaman, Walquist, Sturtridge, Senn, Trafton, White, Murray and Evans, all of whom have been instrumental in making Bear history, are back again, and playing their usual superior brand of ball. The most outstanding addition to the Bear lineup for the 1929 season needs no interruptions to the reading public. Reams of newspaper publicity during his days at Illinois, a career at the vaudeville stage, and a record with the New York Yankees under C.C. Pyle have placed his name in the foreground wherever football is a topic of discussion. He is Harold "Red" Grange, probably the most spectacular gridiron star in all annals of the sport...GRANGE AT HALFBACK: Grange is holding down the halfback position with the Bears this year, and is doing consistent gaining, and no small amount of flashy open field running. Another Grange, also of Illinois and Red's brother, is taking care of one of the ends and is also an addition to the Bear lineup. Others who are supplementing the famous veteran backfield mentioned are Holmer, of Northwestern, and Elmes, who did his college punting at Bradley. Holmer has been cutting up opposing linemen at the fullback position in the early workouts, while Elmes is doing some flashy work at quarterback, relieving Sternaman. Fleckenstein is back again, playing a guard position with his usual cleverness, while new guards in the lineup are Richman, Illinois; Garison, Oregon Aggies; and Kopcha, Chattanooga U. Richman weighs 186, and is a fast man, while Garison weighs in at 200 and Kopcha 203...CUNNINGHAM AT END: A few husky tackle also have been added to the Bear payroll. Ryan, Detroit U; Maillard, Creighton; and Long, also of Detroit U, are the new men at these positions. They weigh 199, 190 and 191, respectively. Cunningham, an Ohio State product, fast and shifty despite his 210 pounds, is playing the left end, alternating with Johnson, who hails from Northwestern and who covers a lot of ground. The right end of the line is being held down by Richards, one of the lightest of the candidates, and a former Illinois star. He weighs 174, and is alternating at his position with Garland Grange.

RED HEARDEN TO PLAY WITH CHICAGO BEARS

SEPT 25 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Thomas "Red" Hearden, former East high star, who also did outstanding work on Notre Dame's backfield before coming to the Green Bay Packers, has been signed by the Chicago Bears and will be seen in action here Sunday against his former teammates, according to an announcement received here today from Chicago. Red has been practicing law in Green Bay since his graduation from Notre Dame and played on the Packer team in 1927 and 1928. An injury to his leg forced him to give up the professional game early in the season last year, so he did not see much action. He has fully recovered, according to the announcement from Bear headquarters and is in shape. Brute Trafton, giant center and one of the greatest box office attractions in professional football, also will be seen in action here Sunday with the Bears according to the announcement. It was thought that Trafton was through with football after last season, but evidently he thinks he still can worry the Packers. To accommodate an unusual demand for tickets for the game Sunday, the Packer management has done its utmost to secure more than 9,000 seats. All will be reserved and only small room left open for standing. Contrary to reports, tickets are available for bleacher seats, management announces. Others are being taken daily, but fans are warned that reservations received after Thursday evening probably will not be filled as the tickets are going fast. The ticket office at the Press-Gazette is open daily and in the

SEATS STILL ON SALE

The ticket office at the Press-Gazette will be open every day from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. in the evening taking care of requests for the Bear-Packer game Sunday.

Additional bleachers have been secured through the courtesy of the Manitowoc fair association and a large block of these seats are still on sale but going fast, officials of the Packer club announced today. All of the grandstand seats have been sold.

evenings. "The management is doing all it can to secure seats for all fans for the Bear-Packer game here Sunday," Dr. W.W. Kelly, president of the club said today. "Bleacher seats have been loaned by the Manitowoc Fair association, Seymour fair association, East and West high school and many public spirited organizations, and we hope to seat over 9,000 persons at the game. Rumors that the seats are sold out should not be accepted as final, as we still have some bleacher seats left. Fans should not accept these rumors until they apply at the box office of The Press-Gazette."

Largest Crowd In History May See Packer-Bear Game

"BRUTE" TRAFTON IS REINSTATED BY BEAR MANAGEMENT

SEPT 26 (Chicago) - "Brute" Trafton, the ferocious center of the Chicago Bears, is the greatest box office attraction known in Green Bay. The Bears are coming here for their annual tilt with the Packers next Sunday, and Trafton has been reinstated and will be in the game. The news has gone abroad, and the management of the Packers football team may have to call on the police for assistance in keeping order during the ticket sale. Of course the Bears boast the presence of Harold "Red" Grange, Paddy Driscoll, and others of worldwide fame in the professional football field, but the bloody, bonecrushing Trafton is the mane that furnishes the basic appeal, and makes the turnstiles click. To accommodate the unusual demand for seats in the City Stadium next Sunday the Packers management has begged and borrowed benches and bleachers until they are now prepared to seat approximately 9,400 people. All of the season have been reserved so that they will be no rush at the field for any of them. Only two small areas have been left open for standing room. Contrary to reports there are still seats available in the park, orders are being taken, and seats sold daily. All reservations should be taken by Thursday, the management warns. To accommodate the fans in their efforts to secure seats in the ticket office in the Press-Gazette building is being kept open all day long and each night. This plan will be in force up to the opening of the game. Dr. W.W. Kelly, president of the Green Bay Football Corporation, issued the following soothing words to the fans who are worried about seats this morning: "The management of the Packer Football Club is doing everything in its power to accommodate the greatest number of people with the least inconvenience to the fans for the Bear game here Sunday. We have gone into the highways and the byways to beg and borrow seats for the game. The Northeastern Wisconsin Fair Association, Green Bay Park Board, Manitowoc Fair Association, the Seymour Fair Association, Green Bay East and West high schools and many other public spirited organizations in this section of the state have responded to our appeals, and we are now in position to seat over 9,000 people at the park. In addition there will be standing room for nearly 1,000 more. However, we hope that there will be seats enough for all. To enable persons to purchase seats with least possible inconvenience the box office in the Press-Gazette building will be kept open all day and late night. There are still many seats available for the game. The seating capacity of the past has been enlarged almost daily for the past week or more, and rumors to the effect that the stadium had been sold out should not be accepted as final by any fan until he has made application at the box office." Seats are going rapidly, the management has not had time to check up yet to determine the exact number of seats sold so far, but it is safe to say that the crowd will be the largest ever assembled in Green Bay for a game of any kind. The ticket sellers have been obliged to call upon extra help to keep up with the sales during the evening. On several occasions the line at the Press-Gazette office formed at the door of the ticket office, then tallied down the stairs and out on the sidewalk.

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY MAY SEE PACKER-BEAR GAME

SEPT 27 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - With but a few hundred tickets let, a sellout for the Bear-Packer game at the City stadium is assured and the Green Bay Football corporation has mapped plans to handle the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a professional gridiron game in Wisconsin. Extra gate men, more ushers and additional police will be on duty at the park. Park attendants equipped with megaphones will help direct the spectators to the right seats. There is a possibility that some members of the Naval militia together with a Boy Scouts' unit will be on hand to act as park police. The gates will open promptly at 12:15 p.m. Spectators are urged by the management to come earlier than usual to help avoid the last minute rush. Everyone is asked to hold its own ticket on entering the park. This will greatly help men at the gates. Holders of reserve seat tickets (there will be 9,332 of these) are advised to be sure and get their reserved seat stubs back from the gate men. Often this is forgotten and it just adds to the unnecessary scrambling for seats. The management has provided standing room for about 1,500. The open spaces are located at the northwest and southeast corners of the gridiron. The early birds of the standing room contingent will get the best spots. The playing field is completely surrounded with stands. Sections A, B, C, D are located in the big grandstands on the north side of the field while sections E, F, G, and H are directly across on the south side. Sections U, W, M, L, X, Z and O are located along the southwest, west and northwest sides of the field while Sections P, Q, R, S and T are put up along the northeast, southeast and east sides of the gridiron. Bench seat Section J is on the north side of the field between the 40 yard lines while bench seat Section K occupies the same position on the south side. There will also be about 275 extra bench seats placed inside of the gridiron fence at the west and east ends of the playing field.

BUD LAABS WILL PLAY WITH OSHKOSH ELEVEN

SEPT 28 (Oshkosh) - Bud Laabs, former Beloit college grid star, has been secured by the newly organized Oshkosh professional football team for a halfback position, it has been announced. Laabs will play in the opening game with the Pullman Panthers at Chicago tomorrow. Laabs, who will play with the Oshkosh eleven tomorrow, worked out with the Packers for a few weeks but left this week to play with Oshkosh. Capt. Lambeau offered him a chance with Boston, but the former Beloit star declined. Slick Lollar, who played on the Green Bay Packer team the start of the 1928 season, also has been signed by the Oshkosh team, according to word received here today. Lollar is a fullback. He was injured early in the 1928 season and did not get much of a chance to show his ability.

BEARS AND PACKERS CLASH SUNDAY

SEPT 28 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - From the throats of 11,000 or more football fans, a mighty cheer will go out tomorrow afternoon at the City stadium as the Packers trot out on the field to battle their ancient enemies, the Chicago Bears. Interest in the game is high throughout the state and the largest crowd in the history of the sport here is expected. Extra bleachers have been installed and seats have been provided for nearly 10,000 fans. Additional standing room for about 1,000 persons also is available. The contest will start promptly at 2 p.m. The game will be between the best team Green Bay ever put on the field and the best eleven the Bears ever sent into the game. You can take Capt. "Curly" Lambeau's word for that and nearly every fan will agree with him...USE DRIVING ATTACKS: Both elevens are expected to use powerful running and driving attacks built around swift backfield men who are deadly blockers. Forward pass plays with fleet receivers on the coaching end also may play an important part in the proceedings. The Bears will present the former Illini flash, Red Grange, in a backfield role, with running mates such as Paddy Driscoll, Sternaman, Strutridge, Holmer and many others whose fame has proceeded them. Then there will be "The Brute", Trafton, whose appearance on the field always brings forth hoots and carcalls from the fans. The jeers mean little, however, as everyone recognizes the power and ability of the giant Bear center, and fear the consequence when he is in the game...FLECKENSTEIN IN GAME: Trafton will be flanked by Fleckenstein, who knows no fear while in a football game, and Garrison, former Oregon Aggie star and regarded as one of the greatest linemen ever developed on the Pacific coast. He also will have Evans, Long, Murry and Ryan at tackle positions to say nothing of Johnsos, Garland Grange and Cunningham at ends. This squad of linemen should prove equal to the task of stopping the charging Packers. On the other hand, the Bay team, as formed this year, certainly will not be idle while the Bears try to stop their charges. With four of the best ends in the country ready for duty, to say nothing of a big squad of Capt. Lambeau has kept his squad working at a high rate of speed throughout the week. It hasn't taken much to put the team on edge for this game, as the natural rivalry that has existed for many years does this for him. Anything is liable to happen in the game. A sudden forward pass attack, launched by the Packers, may send across the winning touchdown, but a similar attack launched by the Bears might also do the same thing and the shifty Red Grange might get loose and display some of his great open field running that made him famous at Illinois. Regardless of what might happen, one thing is sure, and that is that it will be a great game.

PACKERS PREPARED FOR INVASION OF CHICAGO BEARS

SEPT 28 (Green Bay) - The most important game in the NFL will be that between the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears at the City Stadium here Sunday afternoon. The contest may have an important bearing on the final determination of the national championship, but beyond that it is a struggle for blood between the two greatest rivals in the league. So far as the Packers followers are concerned it would profit them nothing to defeat all of the other teams in the league if they lost to the Bears. That is why 10,000 seats in the stadium have been sold and the Bulls in this Bear market are clamoring for the extra benches and standing room in the park. Percival (Brute) Trafton, the huge and talkative center for the Bears, is the man responsible for the great rush of blood thirsty fans to the box office. Trafton is on every tongue in Green Bay and the fans will jeer every act of the Neanderthal linesman while he is on the field, but they all love him. They only wish he was in the shipbuilding business during the war so they could really say something mean about him, and still pay to see him play football. Of course the followers of football know that their adored enemy Paddy Driscoll will be on the field, threatening the Bays with defeat every minute, and then too the world famous Red Grange, the galloping ghost of Illinois will also be present. All of this is profit for the fans, they get their money's worth out of Trafton. Sternaman, Walquist, Senn, White, Evans, Strutridge, all the Bear lineup is well known to Green Bay fans, as well known as the lineup of the Packers, and respected. That is why they are crowding the box office. No one in Green Bay is conceding an easy victory to the Bears or an unqualifiedly claiming that the Packers will win. Some even money can be found but no bettors are laying down their money without trying to jockey his opponent into giving him the ties. The temperature of the Green Bay fans is rising slowly, and will probably be at the danger point when the referee sounds the whistle for the kickoff Sunday afternoon. The Packers have a small army of players, many of them newly in the local uniforms. They have tried out against Portsmouth and Dayton, and all of them looked good. So good in fact that the fans have a thousand differences of opinion as to the result of the baptismal fire of the Bear game. Old Jug Earpe has been dodging Trafton around at center for years without losing his temper, and the fans are depending on him. Other oldtimers and veterans of many battle with the Packers are Lewellen, O'Donnell, Kotal, Dunn, Baker, Dillweg, Darling, Wooding, Perry, Cahoon, Lidberg, Bowdoin, Ashmore their performances are known. But in the grist of new men may be used Sunday are Hill, Smith, Young, Laabs, Evans, Blood, Molenda, McCrary, Kern, Michalske, Earpe, Hubbard. The fans have been watching them with eagle eyes in practice and in the opening games. But is is what they do against the Bears that counts.

BEARS PLAY PACKERS TODAY

SEPT 29 (Chicago Tribune) - The Chicago Bears, who have announced their desire to bring the NFL championship to Wrigley field and make this sports business unanimous for the north side, will play the Packers today at Green Bay. If the reorganized Bear eleven can conquer their old rivals they are well on their way to achievement of that title desire. The Bears know what they are up against today, for the Packers have the same lineup as last season. The Green Bay offense again will feature passing by Dunn and plunging by Lewellen, with a bit of open field running by the black haired Kotal, who persists in refusing to wear a headguard...BEARS WIN OPENER: Although the Bears won their opening league engagement last Sunday, defeating Herb Joesting's Minneapolis eleven, 19 to 6, today's game will be a more thorough test of the squad. Among the newcomers is Red Grange, once the peerless halfback who set the football world on end when he joined the Bears at the end of the Big Ten season in 1925. Walter Holmer, Northwestern's all-conference fullback last year, is another added starter in the backfield, which includes Senn, Driscoll, Sternaman, Walquist and White from last year's team. The Cubs' World Series activities will keep the Bears from starting their home season until Oct. 20, when they meet the Chicago Cardinals.

FACTS ABOUT GAME

Gates at the stadium will open at 12:15. All ushers, ticket sellers and gate men are to report promptly at noon.

A squad of 14 city policemen, under the direction of Lyle Trotter will patrol the field. This detail will be augmented by the motorcycle squad of both the city and county, together with a 100 percent increased contingent from the American legion, headed by 'Tubby' Bero and a boat load of sailors from the naval militia with 'Chief' Wassenberg at the helm. Some two dozen Boy Scouts also will be on the job.

A group of megaphone announcers will call attention to the direction of the various sections. Every one of the sections will be well marked and there will be guide signs all over the park.

Each spectator is asked to hold his or her own ticket on entering the park. Stadium attendants will gladly direct to sections any of the spectators in doubt about location of their reservations.

"Come early and escape the last minute jam at the gates," this is the advice of Football corporation officials as they are prepared to handle the largest crowd that ever witnessed a professional football game in the middle west outside of Chicago.

The ticket office in The Press-Gazette building will be open Saturday evening, 7:30 to 10 p. m., and Sunday morning from 9 a. m. until noon.

The full text of the Ohio Historical Marker reads: "On October 3, 1920 the first game matching two professional teams of the American Professional Football Association, a league that would become the National Football League (NFL), was held on this field within Triangle Park. In that game, the Dayton Triangles defeated the Columbus Panhandles 14-0. The Triangle's Lou Partlow scored the first touchdown and George "Hobby" Kinderdine kicked the first extra point. Three factories founded by Dayton business-men Edward Deeds and Charles Kettering sponsored the Dayton Triangles team. The factories were the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Company (DELCO), Dayton Metal Products Company (D.M.P.Co.), and Domestic Engineering Company (DECO), later call Delco-Light. They formed an industrial triangle of plants in downtown Dayton."
