

Green Bay Packers (5-2) 41, Dallas Cowboys (0-8) 7
Sunday November 13th 1960 (at Green Bay)

Packers Maul Cowboys 41-7, Stay in Contention

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(GREEN BAY) - The Packers had no trouble with the lively Dallas Cowboys at City Stadium Sunday afternoon. Green Bay rolled up a 27 to 0 halftime lead and then coasted to an easy 41 to 7 victory. And the big Bays came within seconds of taking over undisputed possession of first place in the Western Division. The Packers exploded for 20 points in the second quarter and finished the day with five touchdowns and two field goals to match the 41-point splurge against the 49ers Oct. 23. This was the Packers' fifth triumph against two losses and they are not a half-game behind the champion Colts, who have 6-2. The Packers were on the edge of first place until the Colts nipped the Bears in the final 27 seconds in Chicago. Green Bay can move into a first place tie by whipping the Rams in Milwaukee next Sunday, while the Colts are left with a bye. The Packers play their next two games in five days, following the Ram game with an invasion of Detroit Thanksgiving Day. A record crowd of 32,294 saw the Packers close the Packers' City Stadium card of four games. The Vince Lombardi-fired Bays now have won seven out of eight league games in the last two years here. The gate passed the normal 32,150 because the portable seats used for between-halves entertainers were sold. Packer alumni, who took part in the halftime show, were seated on the sidelines. There was some suspicion the Cowboys might rise to sky heights and give the Packers a king-sized scare. The visitors went all-out but the Packers, stung a week ago by the Colts, were elegantly methodical. The Packers recovered two fumbles, intercepted three passes and blocked a punt. They scored five of the first six times they had their hands on the ball - for that 27-0 halftime edge. Every Packer except Jess Whittenton, who was held out due to an injury, had a hand in the fireworks - and that goes double for rambunctious Raymond Nitschke, the No. 4 man in the Bays' Fearsome Foursome. In the process of relieving his fellow linebackers, the colorful Nitschke intercepted a pass intended for Billy Howton (of all people) and raced 43 yards for the Bays' third touchdown and a 21-0 lead in the second quarter. He intercepted another pass in the third quarter to set up the fourth touchdown, recovered a fumble in the third, and during his stay tackled with crowd-pleasing abandon. The Bay defense blanked the Cowboys until midway in the fourth quarter when Don Meredith passed 13 yards to Walt Kowalczyk for their only touchdown. The Cowboys gained 275 yards but it was well scattered and the Bays finished with three rookies in the secondary - Dale Hackbart, Dick Pesonen and Willie Wood. Hackbart went the route in place of Whittenton and only two passes were completed on his side. Dan Currie performed the other interception. Hank Jordan recovered the other fumble and blocked

Relaxing

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE
(Eastern Conference)

	W	L	T	Pct	PS	OP
Philadelphia	6	1	0	.857	194	152
New York	5	1	1	.833	156	131
Cleveland	5	2	0	.714	218	136
St. Louis	4	4	0	.500	201	172
Pittsburgh	2	5	1	.286	170	196
Washington	1	4	2	.200	107	179

(Western Conference)

	W	L	T	Pct	PS	OP
Baltimore	6	2	0	.750	238	140
GREEN BAY	5	2	0	.714	202	119
Chicago	3	3	1	.500	136	166
San Francisco	3	4	0	.429	95	139
Detroit	3	4	0	.429	130	145
Los Angeles	2	5	1	.286	194	205
Dallas	0	8	0	.000	111	272

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

GREEN BAY 41, DALLAS 7.
Baltimore 24, Chicago 20.
Detroit 12, Los Angeles 10.
New York 27, Pittsburgh 24.
Cleveland 28, St. Louis 27.
Philadelphia 19, Washington 13.

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAMES

LOS ANGELES vs. GREEN BAY
(At Milwaukee).
Cleveland at Pittsburgh.
Detroit at Chicago.
Philadelphia at New York.
St. Louis at Washington.
San Francisco at Dallas.

Texans Tip Broncs 34-7, Take Second; Oakland Wins 20-7

American Football League
(Eastern Division)

	W	L	T	Pct	PS	OP
Houston	6	3	0	.667	267	197
Boston	4	5	0	.444	199	197
New York	4	6	0	.400	237	259
Buffalo	3	6	0	.333	158	193

(Western Division)

	W	L	T	Pct	PS	OP
Los Angeles	6	3	0	.667	186	183
Dallas	5	4	0	.556	231	163
Oakland	5	5	0	.500	198	254
Denver	4	5	0	.444	191	216

Sunday Results

Los Angeles 24, Houston 21
Oakland 20, Buffalo 7
Dallas 34, Denver 7

the punt. Bill Quinlan re-injured his shoulder and his successor, Jim Temp, also hurt his shoulder. Ken Beck finished up at defense end. Jarrin' Jim Taylor scored the first three offensive touchdowns on blasts of 28, 4 and 23 yards, and Paul Hornung scored the windup six. Hornung added two 21-yard field goals inside of 1 minute and 1 second just before the half. Taylor finished with 121 yards in 15 carries and amazed the audience. He hit and "run" and ricocheted off groups of Cowboys on his two longer TD runs. Jim passed the 100-yard mark on a 19-yard scamper on the first play of the fourth quarter. Hornung rolled up 17 points to give him an even 100 for the first seven games. He is now just 38 points shy of tying the all-time league record of 138 by Don Hutson in 1942. Paul won the scoring title last year with 95. Bart Starr, making his second straight start at quarterback, completed 9 out of 16 for 149 yards and a 34-0 lead before giving way to Lamar McHan late in the third period. McHan worked up the fifth TD on a 9-play, 57-yard drive in the fourth quarter. Starr engineered teedees on 82, 89 and 44-yard drives. The ex-Packers with the Cowboys gave it a merry go. Billy Butler and Nate Borden on defense were fiery. Howton caught two passes but didn't play in the second half, while Don McIlhenny gained 40 yards in 9 attempts. The Cowboys received the opening kickoff and Hackbart almost became an early hero. He batted down and almost intercepted a Don Heinrich pass aimed at Howton, with a clear field ahead. This forced a punt and the Packers were on their way. Starr's first play of the game was a 28-yard pass to Max McGee to midfield. Five plays later the Bays had a 7-0 edge. The Bays had fourth and one on the Cowboy 28 and Taylor was sent off the left side of the line. He bounced into the pile, slid to the left and scooted all the way, evading an ankle grab by Tom Braatz. Hornung kicked the first of five extra points. The Cowboys snapped back, rolling up three first downs chiefly on a 20-yard pass to Howton, and reached the Packer 17. At this point, Quinlan shook the ball out of Kowalczyk's hands with a jarring tackle and Jordan recovered on the 25. The Packers charged back with Starr throwing to Gary Knafelc for 12, Taylor with a great catch for 16, and Taylor for 14 to the 12 on the last play of the first quarter. The attack bogged down and Hornung missed a field goal from the 18. The Cowboys picked up two first downs, but the Bays got tough and took over. This time Starr moved the club 89 yards for a 14-0 lead. Two quick passes from Starr to Dowler for 21 and McGee for 20 moved the ball midfield. Butler intercepted a long Starr throw aimed at McGee but Bishop was nicked for interference on McGee and the Bays had the ball on the Cowboy four. Taylor smashed over from there for 14-0. Two minutes later, Nitschke took Eddie LeBaron's pass on the 43 and dashed down the west sideline for a touchdown and a 21-0 edge. In quick order just before the half: Jordan blocked a punt and Bill Forester returned seven yards to the Cowboy 24, setting up Hornung's 21-yard field goal from the 21. With second left, Currie intercepted a pass on the 47 and rumbled 34 yards to the 13 and Hornung booted another field goal for 27-0.

FIRST PACKER PUNT

Boyd Dowler delivered the first Packer punt in six quarters (since the end of the Pittsburgh game Oct. 30) at the start of the second half. After another exchange of punts, Nitschke intercepted on the Packer 35 and ripped to the Cowboy 44. The Bays scored from three in five plays. Taylor went two and Hornung three. After Starr tossed nine yards to Hornung, Taylor hit the left side for seven to the 23 and then went the distance from a big group of Cowboys for a 34-0 lead. The Bays got another shot when Nitschke recovered Dupre's fumble but McHan had a pass intercepted in front of Knafelc. McHan, however, got a TD drive going on the last two plays of the third period. After Taylor and Hornung made six yards, Taylor slammed 19 yards to the Packer 37. Three plays later, McHan exploded the bomb - a 47-yard toss to Dowler who took the ball on the 10 and raced to the four. Hornung galloped off left guard for the touchdown with 2:19 gone in the final quarter. Meredith mixed short running gains with two passes to Mathews for 33 yards and worked up a touchdown in 13 plays. The score came on a fourth down and nine pass to Kowalczyk for 13 yards and the TD. Fred Cone made his only appearance to kick the point. With half the period left, Packer replacements flooded the field. including Ken Iman, the rookie center, who gave Jim Ringo the first rest of the league season. McHan had a touchdown drive going by a pass bounced out of Ron Kramer's arms for an interception by Gene Cronin. Meredith passed for two first downs and the Bays finished it off with two runs by Paul Winslow.

DALLAS - 0 0 0 7 - 7
GREEN BAY - 7 20 7 7 - 41

	DALLAS	GREEN BAY
First Downs	14	20
Rushing-Yards-TD	29-99-0	37-165-4
Att-Comp-Yd-TD-Int	35-16-176-1-3	27-13-226-0-2
Sack Yards Lost	15	0
Total Yards	260	391
Fumbles-lost	2-2	0-0
Turnovers	5	2
Yards penalized	7-60	7-44

SCORING

1st - GB - Jim Taylor, 28-yard run (Paul Hornung kick) GREEN BAY 7-0
 2nd - GB - Taylor, 4-yard run (Hornung kick) GREEN BAY 14-0
 2nd - GB - Ray Nitschke, 43-yard interception return (Hornung kick) GREEN BAY 21-0
 2nd - GB - Hornung, 21-yard field goal GREEN BAY 24-0
 2nd - GB - Hornung, 21-yard field goal GREEN BAY 27-0
 3rd - GB - Taylor, 23-yard run (Hornung kick) GREEN BAY 34-0
 4th - GB - Hornung, 4-yard run (Hornung kick) GREEN BAY 41-0
 4th - DAL - Walt Kowalczyk, 14-yard pass from Don Meredith (Fred Cone kick) GREEN BAY 41-7

RUSHING

GREEN BAY - Jim Taylor 15-121 3 TD, Paul Hornung 13-17 1 TD, Tom Moore 3-14, Larry Hickman 3-8, Bart Starr 1-8, Paul Winslow 2-(-3)

DALLAS - Don McIlhenny 9-40, L.G. Dupre 5-27, Walt Kowalczyk 14-24, Don Meredith 1-8

PASSING

GREEN BAY - Bart Starr 16-9-149, Lamar McHan 9-3-65 2 INT, Paul Hornung 2-1-12

DALLAS - Don Heinrich 13-5-55 1 INT, Eddie LeBaron 6-2-29 2 INT, Don Meredith 16-9-92 1 TD

RECEIVING

GREEN BAY - Max McGee 4-79, Paul Hornung 3-32, Boyd Dowler 2-68, Jim Taylor 2-26, Gary Knafelc 2-21

DALLAS - Walt Kowalczyk 7-71 1 TD, Ray Mathews 3-44, Don McIlhenny 3-19, Billy Howton 2-31, Jim Doran 1-11

Pack 'Weren't Very Sharp,' Vince; Easy TD's Hurt: Tom

PACK 'WEREN'T VERY SHARP,' VINCE; EASY TD'S HURT: TOM

NOV 14 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Vince Lombardi, as his coaching pedigree eloquently attests, is a militant perfectionist. Thus, while the Packer faithful could find little fault with Sunday's 41-7 rout of the Dallas Cowboys as they departed sunny City Stadium, the erstwhile Fordham Block of Granite was not impressed. "We weren't very sharp today," he said somberly with a critical eye as he spoke. "It's nothing you can put your finger on but we were just not up to par." His tigers, the forthright head man declared, "were especially not sharp defensively. And offensively, we bobbled and bobbled. Defensive, we did make some big plays, however, some great plays." The tone was set, he said, when the visiting Cowboys were introduced just before the game. "I guarantee you if the Dallas team went to Baltimore, the fans would boo them. They cheered 'em here," he chuckled wryly, marveling at such hospitality. "And that's the way our team played today." Although not satisfied with the overall performance, Vince felt there were some pleasant developments, among them the defensive debut of Wisconsin's home grown Dale Hackbart. "I thought Hackbart did a real fine job," Lombardi said. "I was real pleased with his performance. That's what happens when you get a man from a big college. That's why we draft 'em from big colleges." What about Ray Nitschke? The NFL's reigning coach of the year grinned and declared, "That Nitschke was really something today. Taylor had a fine day, too, and Hornung made two big gains, too, that were called back." Hank Jordan also had a large afternoon, it was ventured. "Yes, he did," Vince conceded. "Jordan and Hanner are the most consistent

Al Carmichael Breaks Leg, Out For Rest of Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Former Green Bay Packer Al Carmichael, Denver's right halfback suffered a broken left leg Sunday in the game with the Dallas Texans. He is out for the remainder of the American Football League season.

The former Southern California player, who is a movie stunt man in the off-season, suffered the injury in the second period. He had caught three passes for 51 yards, carried twice for 11 yards and carried back one punt and one kickoff before the injury came.

Denver said Carmichael's loss was a severe blow as indicated by the Broncos showing in the last half when they failed to score.

Carmichael has caught 29 passes for 565 yards and five touchdowns, run back 21 kickoffs for 558 yards, returned 14 punts for 101 yards and gained 239 yards on 39 carries.

hardnosed club and so are the Packers - they're much alike." "The Packers block very well, their techniques are good," he added. "I suppose that is because they put so much emphasis on running. And they have real good linebacker play, which helps them so much defensively." The Packers' Nitschke, it was observed, had exemplified this quality. "Some days you are in the right spot," Landry said. "Nitschke was in the right spot today."...PRAISES MEREDITH: Ex-Packer Bill Howton, who did not play in the second half, hadn't been injured, Tom revealed. "We just wanted to see Ray Mathews play. He hasn't been playing too much and he's a pretty good player. As a matter of fact, we have quite a few good ends." The Pack's Dave Hanner had been high in his praise of Don Meredith, the Cowboys' 100,000 rookie quarterback. Did Landry agree? "Don is a youngster and has a lot to learn," Landry said, "but I think he will be great some day." It must be a long season and his Cowboys (0-8) it was suggested. Tom nodded and added wryly, "It gets longer every week."...HOMECOMING: A loud, collective cheer went up in the dressing room around the corner as Lombardi was concluding his weekly postgame press conference. What, somebody asked, had prompted such a demonstration? "Nate Borden just walked into our locker room," Business Manager Jack Vainisi called from the doorway of Vince's sanctum sanctorum. "The boys are going to have him stay over tonight for their party," he grinned. "They're taking up a collection for his plane fare so he can go home tomorrow." Seconds later, Borden self-consciously ambled into Lombardi's office. Vince stood up and shook hands with him, quipping with a broad grin, "There's old chocolate milk." After they exchanged pleasantries, Borden turned to leave. "Be a good boy now, Nate," Vince said with mock severity. "Okay, coach," Nate replied, as of old...ADD TAYLOR FANS: Tex Schramm, general manager of the Cowboys, and a veteran NFL observer, is the latest member of the Jim Taylor "fan club." Shaking his head in wonder as the league's leading ground gainer wrested himself free from Dallas clutches and wheeled for his third touchdown of the day in the third quarter. Schramm said, "I've never seen anybody who can keep his balance the way he can. You can't knock him off his football players we have." Any injuries? "Yes, Jim Temp has a shoulder dislocation," Vince said soberly. Offensive tackle Bob Skoronski also suffered a charley horse and did not play in the second half. He declined comment on the Western Division-leading Baltimore Colts' last minute victory over the Bears, but later asserted, "They separate the boys from now on - three games in 10 days." Lombardi obviously had reference to next Sunday's match with the Los Angeles Rams in Milwaukee, to be followed within four days by their traditional Thanksgiving invasion of Detroit. What about the Rams? "I don't know about that," Vin smiled. "This is only today."...Tom Landry, the Cowboys' headmaster and former coaching comrade of Lombardi when both were with the New York Giants, "was not at all surprised" over what had just happened to his athletes. "The Packers played about the game we expected them to," said the youthful defensive expert, who appeared bruised but unbowed. "We felt if we could eliminate our mistakes, we had a chance to stay with them. But you can't give a team easy touchdown on fumbles and interceptions like we did and expect to beat 'em. Not in the NFL, anyway." How did he evaluate the Packers? "They do a workmanlike job," the Texan replied. "They have as good a running club as there is in the NFL - at least they are as good as we have seen this year." But not yet great? "To be great they would have to have a Lenny Moore - to be explosive. They don't have that quality right now. But," Landry admitted, "the Giants don't have it either and they win their division pretty often. They're a good

The Record

BALTIMORE			10—Bears	27
21—Green Bay	35	14—Green Bay	41
31—Los Angeles	17	25—Bears	7
20—Washington	0	0—Detroit	24
42—Bears	7	—Dallas
17—Detroit	30
45—Dallas	7			139
38—Green Bay	24	CLEVELAND
24—Bears	20	41—Philadelphia	24
—Not Scheduled		28—Pittsburgh	20
		48—Dallas	7
238	140	29—Philadelphia	31
BEARS			31—Washington	10
17—Green Bay	14	13—New York	17
7—Baltimore	42	28—St. Louis	27
34—Los Angeles	27	—Pittsburgh
27—S. Francisco	10
24—Los Angeles	24			136
7—S. Francisco	25	New York
20—Baltimore	24	21—S. Francisco	19
—Detroit		35—St. Louis	14
		19—Pittsburgh	17
136	168	24—Washington	24
DALLAS			13—St. Louis	20
28—Pittsburgh	35	17—Cleveland	13
25—Philadelphia	27	27—Pittsburgh	24
14—Washington	26	—Philadelphia
7—Cleveland	48
10—St. Louis	12			131
7—Baltimore	45	PHILADELPHIA
13—Los Angeles	38	24—Cleveland	41
7—Green Bay	41	27—Dallas	25
—S. Francisco		31—St. Louis	27
111	272	28—Detroit	10
DETROIT			31—Cleveland	29
9—Green Bay	28	34—Pittsburgh	7
10—S. Francisco	14	19—Washington	13
10—Philadelphia	28	—New York
20—Baltimore	17			152
35—Los Angeles	48	PITTSBURGH
24—S. Francisco	0	35—Dallas	28
12—Los Angeles	10	20—Cleveland	28
—Bears		17—New York	19
		27—St. Louis	14
130	145	27—Washington	27
GREEN BAY			13—Green Bay	19
14—Bears	17	7—Philadelphia	34
28—Detroit	9	24—New York	27
35—Baltimore	21	—Cleveland
41—S. Francisco	14
19—Pittsburgh	13			196
24—Baltimore	38	ST. LOUIS
41—Dallas	7	43—Los Angeles	21
—Los Angeles		14—New York	35
		27—Philadelphia	31
202	119	14—Pittsburgh	27
LOS ANGELES			12—Dallas	10
21—St. Louis	43	20—New York	13
9—S. Francisco	13	44—Washington	7
27—Bears	34	27—Cleveland	28
17—Baltimore	31	—Washington
24—Chicago	24
48—Detroit	35			172
38—Los Angeles	13	WASHINGTON
10—Detroit	12	0—Baltimore	20
—Green Bay		26—Dallas	14
		24—New York	24
194	205	27—Pittsburgh	27
SAN FRANCISCO			10—Cleveland	31
10—New York	21	7—St. Louis	44
13—Los Angeles	9	13—Philadelphia	19
14—Detroit	10	—St. Louis
				179

feet."...BUCKETS EXPERT: In another second tier TV booth, all-time Packer guard Charles (Buckets) Goldenberg served as an "expert" on a special telecast to Milwaukee over station WXIX. Buckets, now a Milwaukee restaurateur, held forth as colorcaster for Todd Branson...O'BRIEN RETURNS: Davey O'Brien, the former TCU great who made his first Green Bay appearance in 1940 a memorable one by completing 27 passes for the Philadelphia Eagles, returned in a new role Sunday. Davey handled the "color" for the Columbia Broadcasting System's southwest TV (Cowboy) network. Wes Wise did the play-by-play...BACKING FROM BRAVES: On hand to lend his vocal support to the Packer cause was John McHale, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves. McHale, a visitor to the dressing room after the game, told fellow Notre Dame alumnus Paul Hornung with a big smile, "I was pulling for you for all the way."

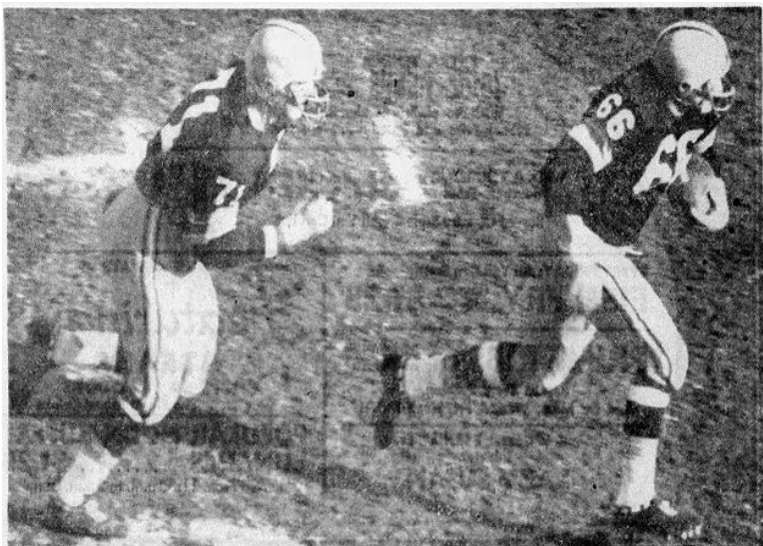

NITSCHKE AT PEACE: HE 'CAPITALIZED' ON BIG OPPORTUNITY

NOV 14 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - His ruddy countenance still aglow, Raymond Ernest Nitschke was a man at peace with the world. The bruising University of Illinois alumnus, lolling back on a chair in front of his locker, drank deeply from a bottle of coke before imparting with great sobriety. "When you get an opportunity, you have to capitalize on it. When you work hard in practice, it's got to pay off." And "capitalize" he did - to the vocal delight of a record Packer house (32,294), intercepting two passes and recovering a fumble to garnish the biggest afternoon of his three-year pro career. The beefy blond, whose every heroic drew thunderous cheers, rumbled 43 yards to a touchdown with the first of those interceptions and set up another with the second. It was a poetic, and ironic, climax to a memorable day that had begun with the rugged linebacker, who has seen infrequent employment referring to himself cynically as "Judge." (This, lockermate Dan Currie explained, stemmed from an article Ray has read "about a player who was Judge because he spent so much time on the bench.") All of that was forgotten now. Nitschke, perspiration still glistening on his massive chest from the rigors of the afternoon, accepted congratulations from ex-Packer great Verne Lewellen and quipped, "Did I look like a fullback on that TD run?" "Pretty sharp," Lew assured him. "I knew I was going all the way," he admitted. "It was on the weak side and there was nobody there." At this point, his hands shot in the air and a football, wafted from the other side of the room, settled in his hands. It was the game ball. "Thank you, Bubba," he called to Bill Forester, the team's defensive captain, who had made the "presentation." Turning to newsmen clustered about him, he said proudly, "I really appreciate this," Analyzing his performance critically, Ray volunteered, "I made some mistakes, but I was trying. I was embarrassed once because I was supposed to be on the punting team and I wasn't there - I was gassing on the bench. It was my fault they scored their touchdown," he confessed. "It was my man." At the other end of the Packers' quarters, Dale Hackbart confided that he, like many another before him, had discovered, "It's a lot tougher up here than it was in college." "We never played the man in college, just zone defense," explained the rookie from Wisconsin, who had just gone the distance in his pro debut holding forth for the injured Jesse Whittenton at cornerback. "You have a tendency to lay off the receiver because of that." The former Badger quarterback had had a successful baptismal, despite this disadvantage, it was suggested. "I don't know," Hackbart responded. "I can't tell until I see the movies." He had almost gone the distance on a near interception of a Don

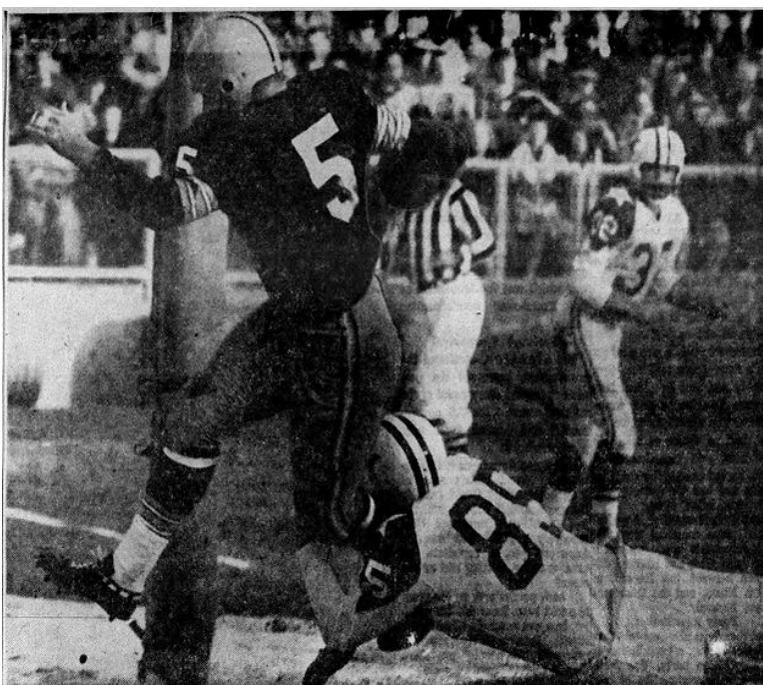

"Where's That Goal Line" — Big Ray Nitschke sets sail for a 43-yard touchdown run after intercepting an Eddie LeBaron pass in second quarter of Packer-Cowboy game at City

Stadium Sunday. Capt. Bill Forester (71) forms an escort for No. 66 on touchdown that gave Packers 21 to 0 lead. It was Ray's first pro touchdown. (Press-Gazette Photo)

Ray Nitschke (66), Who had his most sensational day as a Green Bay Packer Sunday, is on his way to a second period touchdown after intercepting a pass.

Bill Forester (71) is part of Nitschke's blocking convoy. The Packers beat Dallas, 41-7.

Paul Hornung Scores the final Packer touchdown (from the 4-yard line) against Dallas Sunday in City Stadium. The Cowboys' Gene Cronin (85) hangs on in vain.

Dallas' Tom Franckhauser (32) is in the background.

Heinrich pitch to ex-Packer Bill Howton early in the first quarter. What had happened? "I just got excited," he grinned. "I just dropped it. I was looking at the goal line instead of the ball." Jim Taylor, who had been more brilliant than usual, had a facetious explanation for his latest success. "I needed to pull my average up - it was way down," said Taylor, who bulled, danced and slid for 121 yards in 15 carries. "Somebody almost caught me from behind on that first touchdown - I don't know who it was but he almost tripped me up." Blocking that Cowboy punt was a simple matter for Hank Jordan, he said. Hank, who said, "It was the first time I've blocked one as a Packer," added, "Nobody blocked me. All I had to was walk in there." Jordan, who also recovered a fumble, also wanted it known, "I really didn't have such a good day." He pointed to a big, burly blond three doors down and said, "Dave Hanner was the one today - he was all over the field." Hawg, insisting, "We got some good breaks today," preferred to talk about the opposition. "They have a surprisingly good ball club - better than you would expect under the circumstances. And that Meredith's going to be a great quarterback - one of the best in the league. That old Nate (Borden, Hawg's ex-defensive mate before being traded to the Cowboys) played a fine game today, too. The way Taylor and Hornung ran today," Hanner appended with a grin, "they'd make any club look bad."

PRESENT 3 PLAQUES AT PACK 'REUNION'

NOV 14 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - What started out to be an exchange of one piece of hardware ended up with three at City Stadium Sunday to highlight the Packers' annual homecoming celebration. Nearly 60 former Packers, the largest number to attend the event so far, turned out for the weekend festivities. In addition to the plaque honoring E.L. (Curly) Lambeau and all former Packer presidents, presentations were also made of replicas of tablets in the Wisconsin Sports Hall of Fame honoring Don Hutson and Clarke Hinkle. The Hutson plaque was presented by Oliver Kuechle, sports editor of the Milwaukee Journal, and accepted by Verne Lewellen. Robert Trainer, assistant to the president of the Schlitz Brewing Co., delivered the Hinkle marker to Bernard Darling. Neither Hutson nor Hinkle were present for the homecoming...TAKE FIELD AGAIN: The presidents' plaque, presented by Packer President Dominic Olejniczak and accepted by City Atty. Clarence Nier, chairman of the stadium commission, will be affixed to the outer wall of the ticket office under the west stands. No decision has been made on locating the Hutson and Hinkle plaques, which are exact replicas of those in the State Hall of Fame in the Milwaukee Arena. Over 50 ex-Packers, who watched the game from special benches on the west sideline, took the field again during halftime. They were introduced to the crowd by Jugger Earp, president of the Packer Alumni Assn. The record crowd gave each a big hand as he was introduced. The homecoming weekend began Saturday night with a dinner and get-together at the Beaumont Hotel. About 50 turned up for the evening gathering. The total attendance was a matter of some confusion since some who were present Saturday night did not attend the game and vice versa. Those present at the game Sunday, most of whom also attended Saturday's party, included:...CURLY IN PRESS BOX: John Biolo, Charles Brock, Lou Brock, Tony Canadeo, Tiny Croft, Bernard Darling, John DesJardins, Dick Deschaine, Jugger Earp, Stretch Elliott, Weert Englemann, Bob Forte, Ted Fritsch, Ed Glick, Buckets Goldenberg, Arnie Herber, Paul Kell, Bill Kuusisto, Wally Ladrow, Joe Laws, Walter LeJean and Verne Lewellen. Others were Ace Loomis, Hurdis McCrary, John Martinkovic, Charley Mathys, Tom Miller, Nick Miketinac, Perry Moss, Don Perkins, Al Petcka, Ken Radick, Al Rose, Gus Rosenow, Howie Ruetz, Joe Secord, Champ Seibold, Red Smith, Bud and George Svendsen, Shades of Glory—Former Packer players, some of whose careers dated back to the early sandlot days of more than 40 years ago, trod the gridiron again briefly during halftime ceremonies to climax the Packer homecoming. Here Jug Earp, far left, Packer Alumni president and star lineman of the great triple champions of 1929-31, introduces old-timers back for the event. In the foreground, walking toward the sideline, is Tom Miller, Packer publicity director and members of the 1946 squad.

About 60 former Green Bay players returned for the reunion, the largest to attend the annual event to date. The festivities also included the presentation of a plaque honoring Curly Lambeau and past presidents of the Packers as well as replicas of the tablets to Don Hutson and Clarke Hinkle, now hanging in the Wisconsin Sports Hall of Fame in Milwaukee. (Press-Gazette Photo)

Pete Tinsley, Charley Tollefson, Andy Uram, Red Vogds, Dick Weisgerber, Alex Wizbicki, Whitey Woodin, Glenn Young, Carl, Martin and Richard Zoll, Dave Zuidmulder, Jimmy Cook and Joe Carey. Curly Lambeau was at Saturday's gathering and present in the press box for the game, but did not appear on the field for introductions and the plaque presentation. Seven other former Packers were also much in evidence over the weekend although they did not participate directly in the festivities. They were Fred Cone, Billy Howton, Mike Fallas, Don McIlhenny, Tom Braatz, Nate Borden and Billy Butler. All came to town in the trappings of the Dallas Cowboys.

New Role: Everyone Up for Packers Now

NEW ROLE: EVERYONE UP FOR PACKERS NOW

NOV 15 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packers are experiencing something new. Coach Vince Lombardi mentioned it today: "We're classified as contenders now. Everybody will be up for us. That's a new problem for us." Lombardi pointed out that the champion Colts have been "going through that for two years." The fact that the Colts have been able to win week after week in the face of highly-keyed opposition is to their credit! They downed contenders Green Bay and Chicago in the last two games. Fortunately for them and unfortunately for the Pack, the Colts draw a bye next Sunday. Nobody's really complaining, of course, on the Pack's contendership rating. It's wonderful, but Lombardi's logic is that the Packers' final five opponents will all have their muscles especially ready for Green Bay. The Packers face those final five (Rams, Lions, Bears, 49ers and Rams) with full knowledge that they can tie the Colts for the Western title by winning all five. This is based on the assumption that the Colts win their remaining four - 49ers, Lions, Rams and 49ers. Such happiness would create a divisional playoff. But enough of that. No. 1 on the "hit parade" is Los Angeles. The glamorous Rams, smarting from a 12-10 loss in Detroit last Sunday and anxious to get even at the expense of a contender, will battle the Bays in Milwaukee County Stadium Sunday. The Rams figure to make an extra-special all-out effort because they draw a bye the following Sunday. The Packers, on the other hand, play their next two games in five days - in Detroit Thanksgiving Day. The Packers, however, have a chance to make some real hay, while the Colts are resting. The Bays, with a win on LA, can tie the Colts for the Western lead. Then, they can take over the top chair for a few days along with a win in Detroit. Also, in the five days starting Sunday and ending mid-afternoon of Thursday, the Packers can tie last year's phenomenal seven-win record. Unhappily, the Packers are approaching this particularly strenuous period in an achy condition. "There isn't one of the 22 players who isn't hurting some place. We have a couple of ankles, some shoulders and just about everything," Lombardi said. Defensive end Jim Temp dislocated his shoulder in the victory over the Cowboys and may be out three weeks. Temp had relieved Bill Quinlan, who had hurt his shoulder in the Baltimore game. Quinlan discovered his shoulder was in good shape, one time forcing a fumble with a solid hit. Jess Whittenton, whose loss was such a damaging factor in the Colt game, was held out of the Dallas battle. He'll play against the Rams if he's okay. He has muscle pulls. Dale Hackbart, the ex-Badger hero, now qualifies as Whittenton's top aide at the key right cornerback spot. Lombardi and defense aides Phil Bengtson and Norb Hecker spoke highly of Hackbart's performance against the Cowboys. Vince pointed out that "he played against some of the good ones, Howton and Mathews." The Packers went back to work today and a light workout after which they heard the weekly report from Scout Wally Cruice, who looked in on the Lions' 12-10 win over the Rams in Detroit. Detroit won a 13-yard field goal by Jim Martin with 4:04 left in the game.

Precious Six — Packer Fullback Jim Taylor scored three touchdowns in Green Bay's 41 to 7 victory over the Dallas Cowboys at City Stadium Sunday. He's shown above cracking four yards and over the goal line in the second quarter. No. 22 is the Cowboys' Billy Butler, the former Packer. Cowboy and Packer at right are John Gonzaga and Forrest Gregg. Crowd of 32,294 saw Packers score fifth victory and remain half-game behind champion Colts.

WANT TO START TEAM IN NATIONAL LEAGUE?

NOV 15 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - So you want to start a team in the NFL? The Packer-Cowboy game at City Stadium Sunday should be a warning to all you prospective squadmakers. Every member of the Cowboy cast is an experienced pro, with the exception of two or three. Yet, the Dallas lineup can't expect to win this year - unless, perhaps, by accident. The Packers and their followers had to be fearful of such an accident Sunday. But it became apparent quite soon that Dallas was no match for your Packers. Dallas doesn't like to lose but people like Tex Schramm, Tom Landry and Larry Karl of the Cowboys' official group feel that if the Cowboys went out and won, it certainly wouldn't say much for the other clubs in the league. The best thing that can be said about the Cowboys is that they didn't roll over and play dead. They were blasting away right down to the final wire. That's to the credit of Coach Landry and we hope the fans in Dallas don't get too impatient. Karl, the Cowboy publicity chief, was feeling low after Dallas lost a real tough 12-10 decision to St. Louis. He recalled last week: "Tom was feeling low, too, but he lifted me up. He quietly told me that we can't expect to cut into anybody and then he told me where we need help. The morale of the team is wonderful despite our weekly losses and that's part of the battle right there." One of the problems is that Dallas has no tradition to lean, fall or look back on. The Cowboys don't have a solid fan following. Really, they seem like pro football orphans. Yet, there wasn't a Cowboy on the field Sunday who didn't think that, with some good breaks, they could defeat the Packers. That's the basis for the "hope" the Cowboys and Landry have for the future of pro football in Dallas. They hope to parlay the current doormat into a representative squad in three years. The Cowboys were politely cheered by the audience when they scored late in the game. That could only happen in Green Bay, which really has a soft heart. This is the only town in the league where the fans don't boo the home team when things go haywire. The Cowboys and Packers may have been 34 points apart on the scoreboard but they were smack even in the total number of offensive plays (rushes and passes). Each club tried 64 plays but the Pack put the emphasis on the ground, the Cowboys in the air. Dallas had 35 passes and 29 rushes; the Packers 37 rushes and 27 passes. While the Cowboys leaned toward the pass, they called a left end pitchout on the first play of the game, Don McIlhenny gaining eight yards. The Packers went to the air on the opening play, Bart Starr throwing to Max McGee for 28. The Packers, incidentally, didn't pass again until after taking a 7-0 lead and the principals and the gain were the same, Starr to McGee for 28.

TOP 1-2 PUNCH: TAYLOR AND HORNUNG!

NOV 16 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung! Don't mention one without the other. Look what these two Packer heavyweights have done between 'em in the first seven games this season: Rushed for 1,086 yards, scored 160 points, and caught 26 passes for 202 yards. One picks the other up. Last Sunday, for instance, Hornung was off his usual track, what with 17 yards in 13 rushes. Taylor responded with 121 yards in 15 trips. In Baltimore the previous Sunday, the Colts held Jim down to 56 yards in 20 trips. But Paul flashed with 99 in 17. Taylor and Hornung have a "lock" on Packer rushing and they tank as one of the two best ground twosomes in the league. Jim Brown and Bob Mitchell of the Browns have totaled 1,106 yards in seven games, but most of that bulge came last Sunday when Brown reeled off 173 yards in 28 attempts vs. the Cardinals. Brown's big day moved him into first place in the league with 694 yards, while Taylor is second with 661 - 33 behind. Mitchell is seventh with 402; Hornung 10th with 395. Hornung and Taylor have rushed for all but 209 of the Packers' 1,295 yards by rushing. Moore is next with 91, while Lamar McHan has 56, Lew Carpenter 24, Larry Hickman 18, Bart Starr 15, Boyd Dowler eight and Paul Winslow minus 3. Taylor isn't too far from Tony Canadeo's all-time single season rushing record of 1,052 yards. The Grey Ghost set the mark in 1949 in 208 attempts. Taylor, with 661 in 143 attempts, is 391 yards behind. He would have to average close to 80 yards in the last five games to erase the mark. No two teammates in the league are even Top 1-2 Punch: Taylor and Hornung!

The Record

BALTIMORE			10—Bears	27
21—Green Bay	35	14—Green Bay	41
31—Los Angeles	17	25—Bears	7
20—Washington	0	0—Detroit	24
42—Bears	7	—Dallas
17—Detroit	30
45—Dallas	7			139
38—Green Bay	24	CLEVELAND
24—Bears	20	41—Philadelphia	24
—Not Scheduled		28—Pittsburgh	20
238	140	48—Dallas	7
BEARS			29—Philadelphia	31
17—Green Bay	14	31—Washington	10
7—Baltimore	42	13—New York	17
34—Los Angeles	27	28—St. Louis	27
27—S. Francisco	10	—Pittsburgh
24—Los Angeles	24			136
7—S. Francisco	25	218
20—Baltimore	24	New York
—Detroit		21—S. Francisco	19
136	168	35—St. Louis	14
DALLAS			19—Pittsburgh	17
28—Pittsburgh	35	24—Washington	24
25—Philadelphia	27	13—St. Louis	20
14—Washington	26	17—Cleveland	13
7—Cleveland	48	27—Pittsburgh	24
10—St. Louis	12	—Philadelphia
7—Baltimore	45			131
13—Los Angeles	38	PHILADELPHIA
7—Green Bay	41	24—Cleveland	41
—S. Francisco		27—Dallas	25
111	272	31—St. Louis	27
DETROIT			28—Detroit	10
9—Green Bay	28	31—Cleveland	29
10—S. Francisco	14	34—Pittsburgh	7
10—Philadelphia	28	19—Washington	13
30—Baltimore	17	—New York
35—Los Angeles	48			152
24—S. Francisco	0	PITTSBURGH
12—Los Angeles	10	35—Dallas	28
—Bears		20—Cleveland	28
130	145	17—New York	19
GREEN BAY			27—St. Louis	14
14—Bears	17	27—Washington	27
28—Detroit	9	13—Green Bay	19
35—Baltimore	21	7—Philadelphia	34
41—S. Francisco	14	24—New York	27
19—Pittsburgh	13	—Cleveland
24—Baltimore	38			170
41—Dallas	7	ST. LOUIS
—Los Angeles		43—Los Angeles	21
202	119	14—New York	35
LOS ANGELES			27—Philadelphia	31
21—St. Louis	43	14—Pittsburgh	27
9—S. Francisco	13	12—Dallas	10
27—Bears	34	20—New York	13
17—Baltimore	31	44—Washington	7
24—Chicago	24	27—Cleveland	28
48—Detroit	35	—Washington
38—Los Angeles	13			201
10—Detroit	12	WASHINGTON
—Green Bay		0—Baltimore	20
194	205	26—Dallas	14
SAN FRANCISCO			24—New York	24
10—New York	21	27—Pittsburgh	27
13—Los Angeles	9	10—Cleveland	31
14—Detroit	10	7—St. Louis	44
		13—Philadelphia	19
		—St. Louis
				107
				179

close to the Packers' Twin Scorers. Hornung has scored 100 marks on eight TD's, 25 extra points and nine field goals; Taylor 60 on 10 touchdown. Jim got three TDs and Paul 17 points on Dallas. These two have scored all but 42 of the Packers' points, and Tom Moore has 24 of those. Hornung is just 39 points short of breaking Don Hutson's record of 138 set in 1938. That would seem like a sure bet but it will depend on the Packers' fortunes on the rocky road ahead. The Packers aren't listed in the pass receiving, punting, punt and kickoff returns and interception departments, but they have two representatives in passing - Starr, who has leaped from 15th to 13th place, and McHan, who is 17th. Starr has a completion percentage of 58.0, which ranks second only to the 69.3 by Milt Plum of Cleveland, 58.3 by Ralph Guglielmi of Washington and 60.8 by Bill Wade of Los Angeles. Of those three, only Plum is with a winning team. Bart has completed 51 out of 88 for 626 yards. The Packers' opponent in Milwaukee next Sunday, Los Angeles, has a key performer on the pass catching board - the slick Red Phillips, who ranks fourth with 30 catches for 571 yards. Wade is sixth in passing, while Frank Ryan, who likely will start vs. Green Bay, is 14th. Phillips is rated by some as the best end in the league. (More on that later.)...CATCHING BALANCE: Green Bay's pass catching corps has exceptional balance. Dowler is leading with 21, while Max McGee is next with 20. The next three are all about even - Hornung 15, Taylor 11 and Gary Knafelc 10. Dowler has a nifty 46.2-yard punting average, which is better than the top in the league, but he hasn't punted enough to make the ratings. He has punted only 13 times. Dan Currie's interception vs. Dallas made him the leader in that department. Dapper Dan has three, with a return of 75 yards, which is also tops. Jess Whittenton, Hank Gremminger, Em Tunnell and Ray Nitschke each stole two; Bill Forester and John Symank one each...BRIEFS: Packer Scout Wally Cruice told the Packers yesterday that the Rams are "ready to break loose." LA was held to 10 points by Detroit Sunday, but scored 44 against Detroit in the earlier game. Coach Vince Lombardi, Aides Phil Bengtson, Norb Hecker, Bill Austin and Red Cochran and the entire Packer player list haven't forgotten how the Rams surprised the Pack in Milwaukee a year ago. The score was 45 to 6. Two field goals...Attention Defense: Ram Coach Bob Waterfield said in Madison (they're training at the University of Wisconsin) today: "It could be that the Packers have the best defensive line this year. At least we know they charge quickly and with aggressiveness."

Better Than Berry?—This is Red Phillips, the star Los Angeles Rams pass catcher LA Asst. Coach Tom Fears says is better than the Baltimore Colts' great Raymond Berry, current National Football League leader.

COWBOY PARKER'S GESTURE FIRES PICTORIAL BLANK

NOV 16 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Even during the gloom of Sunday afternoon's 41-7 loss to the Packers, Business Manager Jimmy Parker of the Dallas Cowboys didn't forget the social amenities, it develops. Learning that the wife of one of the Cowboy players had just given birth to a baby, Parker was anxious to wire flowers. Western Union's H.J. Norrell, realizing that most florists were closed on Sunday, suggested that a "Candygram" be sent to the new mother. It was - and she received a two-pound box in her hospital room before the game was over. P.S. - Norrell, recently returned from political press assignments with President-Elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, thought this was worthy of a picture so he proceeded to the top floor of the press box and asked a photographer to take a quick picture of Parker with Tom Miller, Packer publicity director. To his dismay, he selected a TV cameraman, rather than a still photographer. Hence, although Miller and Parker posed, no photos.

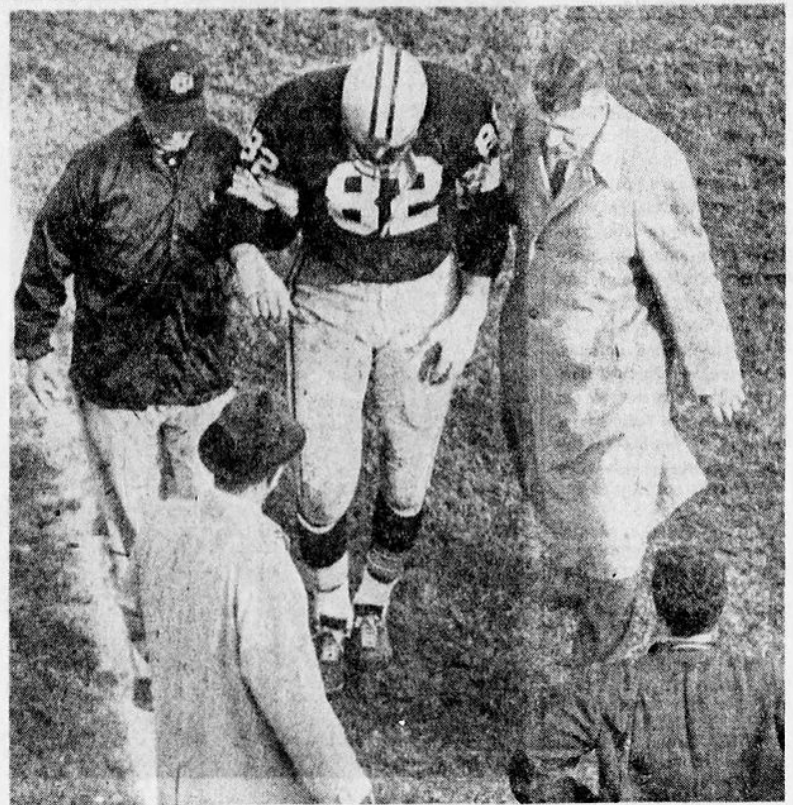

Rams' Red Phillips Better Than Berry? Fears Says So

RAMS' RED PHILLIPS BETTER THAN BERRY? FEARS SAYS SO

NOV 17 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Red Phillips better than Raymond Berry? Here's what Tom Fears, Rams' assistant coach, thinks of Phillips: "There are none better in the league right now - not even Ray Berry of the Colts. Teaming up with a passer like John Unitas, Red would catch a jillion passes." Fears is an all-time pass catcher in his own right and his prize pupil is Phillips, who is now in his third season with Los Angeles. "Red fools you in a lot of ways. He's faster than he looks and you'd be inclined to guess his weight about 10 pounds under. He's the most deceptive 195-pounder I ever saw. Most of it is his legs and thighs and is he tough," Tom told a Los Angeles writer last week. This, of course, is all very interesting to the Packers, who play the Stars in Milwaukee Sunday. And it's especially noteworthy to Packer defense backs and Packer offensive ends. Fears is well acquainted with Green Bay ends since he coached the Bay wingmen most of the training season a year ago. Fears' prize prospect was Boyd Dowler, who didn't disappoint. Boyd caught 32 passes and was a shoo-in for rookie of the year honors. Phillips better than Berry? Let's look: Red caught 28 passes for 447 yards in four game against the Packers in his first two years, 1958-59. Raymond, and this will slay you, nailed 21 passes for 232 yards in four games in those same two years. Red will have to really go some to duplicate Berry's feats against the Packers this year. The dazzling Raymond snared 15 in the two 1960 games. Phillips, former Auburn star, is in a hot streak. He ranks fourth in the league with 30 catches for 571 yards in eight games, but he nailed 14 of those for 315 yards in the last three games. He picked off five for 108 against the Lions in LA, seven for 151 against Dallas, and two for 56 against the Lions in Detroit. He caught five touchdown passes in those three games and now has six scoring throws, which is equal to his 1958-59 total. Fears' favorite normally plays right end, which means that Hank Gremminger and Em Tunnell will be seeing "Red."...SHOFNER SWITCHING: The Rams' left end is manned by a highly-touted rookie, Carroll Dale, who stands 6-1 and packs 195. This former VPI flash might share some of his work with the elusive Del Shofner, who has been switching between offense and defense. The two ends, under Coach Bob Waterfield's system, are generally spread wide and the "third end" is a slot back - usually Clendon Thomas. Behind Thomas are Tom Wilson and Dick Bass. Joe Marconi has been the starting fullback and the great Jon Arnett is at left half. Ollie Matson plays behind Marconi and Bass also backs up Arnett. Matson, incidentally, gained 121 yards in 20 attempts against the Pack in Milwaukee last year, but got only six yards in six attempts in the replay in LA. The Rams won 45-6 in Milwaukee and Green Bay won in LA 38-20. P.S. - Phillips and Berry have one obvious thing in common: They both wear the same number, 82...The Packers practiced in City Stadium Wednesday to the tune of rolling beer cans, etc. Workmen were sweeping down the seat areas while drills were going on. Coach Vince Lombardi put the emphasis on the aerial attack, with all able-bodied receivers getting a good workout on pass thrown by Bart Starr and Lamar McHan. Fullback Jim Taylor, bothered by a muscle pull, worked on his own, zipping up and down the field to stay loose. Jess Whittenton, who missed the Dallas game and most of the Baltimore game with a muscle pull, worked some on defense and then exercised by touching the crossbar with well timed leaps. Other taking it easy due to various hurts were John Symank and Bill Quinlan, both Injury—Jim Temp, Packer defensive end who was substituting for injured Bill Quinlan, suffered a shoulder dislocation in the third quarter in Packer-Cowboy game at City Stadium Sunday. He's shown leaving the game with the aid of Trainer Bud Jorgensen (left) and Dr. James Nellen, team physician. Waiting on sidelines is Coach Vince Lombardi. Packers won 41-7.

(Press-Gazette Photo)

defensive agents...On the Ram front in Madison, Coach Bob Waterfield announced that Bill Wade will start at quarterback. It will be Wade's first start in five weeks. Frank Ryan, the young physicist in his third year, had been starting. The Rams are getting healed up at linebacker. They used six tackles at times on defense in the 12-10 loss at Detroit to make up for the loss of LBers. Les Richter had a bad hip, Jack Pardee an ankle sprain, and Bill Jobko a sore knee but all will be ready for Sunday. Dick Bass, one of the best backs to come into the league for several years, has been given a starting assignment. He'll open at slotback in place of Clendon Thomas.

AFL TO DRAFT BY TELEPHONE

NOV 17 (Dallas) - The AFL will hold a "partial" player draft this weekend when the loop club owners get together for a long-distance telephone meeting. AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said the draft would be conducted through his office with results to be announced Monday. Each club will make six selections. Although the draft will be conducted before the closing of the collegiate football season, Foss said he has warned club owners not to sign players who have not completed their college eligibility. "I personally will void any AFL contract signed before the player has completed his collegiate football eligibility," Foss said. "And this includes bowl games." Purposes of the early draft, he said, was to allow clubs to make their top selections and enable them to concentrate on scouting players of less well-known ability. The remainder of the league's draft will be conducted "sometime in December," Foss said.

Packers Add Miller; Jim Temp Off

came off the bench in the third quarter and hurled the Bays to a tight win over the Steelers. Starr handled the last two games - a 38-24 loss at Baltimore and a 41-7 win over the Cowboys. McHan worked up one of the touchdowns in relief in the last quarter of the Dallas game. The Packers lead the league in rushing yards and rank ninth in passing stripes. A week ago they were 11th in the air. The big offensive splurging in the last two weeks shows the change. The 817 yards in the two games is just about one-third of the yards (2,426) gained in the first five games. The Bays gained 501 air yards in the two games and that's nearly half of the seven-game total, 1,131. Rushing dropped below the average. The Packers gained 316 yards on the ground in the two games - an average of 158; the average for the seven games is 185...Despite the Colts' 38, the Packers' defense is still tops in the league on points. Green Bay has permitted only 119 marks - an average of 17. Green Bay can expect a wide open offensive onslaught from the Rams Sunday in Milwaukee County Stadium. The Rams scored 86 points in two successive games, beating the Lions 48-35 and the Cowboys 38-13, and then had trouble with the rugged Lion defense last Sunday while

PACKERS ADD MILLER; JIM TEMP OFF

NOV 18 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packers rolled up 65 points and 817 yards in splitting the last two games against the first place Colts and the last place Cowboys. Those figures indicate a new offensive trend that reflects the change in quarterbacks. Bart Starr worked the first game - a 17-14 loss to the Bears, and Lamar McHan then pitched the next three wins. Starr

BULLETIN
The Packers today added defensive lineman John Miller, a former Washington Redskin, to their active list and placed defensive end Jim Temp on waivers. Temp suffered a shoulder dislocation in last Sunday's game against Dallas. Miller, 26 years old, 6-5 and 260 pounds, is in his fourth season. Put on waivers by the Redskins earlier in the season, he played 36 consecutive games for Washington in the 1956, '58 and '59 seasons.

losing 12-10. The Packer defense thus is aware that the Rams' big objective will be to score points. Coach Bob Waterfield took a step in that direction today when he announced from Madison that Del Shofner will be on offense Sunday. This skilled pass catcher had been filling in some on defense. There is method, of course, in Waterfield's move. Jess Whittenton, the first man of defense against the fleet Shofner, missed last Sunday's game due to a leg injury, and his place was filled by rookie Dale Hackbart. Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said that Whittenton will be ready to play but Hackbart will be kept in readiness. Dale, shifted to Whittenton's relief spot in practice last week, now has two weeks of drill in the position under his belt...TODAY'S

Co-Leaders?

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE (Eastern Conference)

	W	L	T	Pct.	PS	OP
Philadelphia	6	1	0	.857	194	152
New York	5	1	1	.833	156	131
Cleveland	5	2	0	.714	218	136
St. Louis	4	4	0	.500	201	172
Pittsburgh	2	5	1	.286	170	196
Washington	1	4	2	.200	107	179

(Western Conference)

	W	L	T	Pct.	PS	OP
Baltimore	6	2	0	.750	238	140
GREEN BAY	5	2	0	.714	202	119
Chicago	3	3	1	.500	136	166
San Francisco ..	3	4	0	.429	95	139
Detroit	3	4	0	.429	130	145
Los Angeles	2	5	1	.286	194	205
Dallas	0	8	0	.000	111	272

SUNDAY'S GAMES

LOS ANGELES vs. GREEN BAY
(At Milwaukee). (1:00, WJPG, WBAY-TV)
Cleveland at Pittsburgh
Detroit at Chicago
Philadelphia at New York
St. Louis at Washington
San Francisco at Dallas
Baltimore, bye

Probable Offensive Lineups:

LOS ANGELES		GREEN BAY
Shofner	LE	McGee
Boeke	LT	Skoronski
Hord	LG	Thurston
Hunter	C	Ringo
Lansford	RG	J. Kramer
Bradshaw	RT	Gregg
Phillips	RE	Knafelc
Wade	QB	Starr
Arnett	LH	Hornung
Bass	RH	Dowler
Marconi	FB	Taylor

* * *

Los Angeles-Green Bay Series
Los Angeles Won 21, Green Bay Won
7, None Tied. Points: Los Angeles 871,
Green Bay 532.

WARNING: The Rams twice beat the Packers in Milwaukee after the Bays had built of what seemed like hefty or safe leads. Who will ever forget that Ram-Packer game of '52? The Packers led 28-6 with 12 minutes left but the Rams won 30-28. The leader of that history-making Ram comeback was the aforementioned Waterfield. Packer Dave Hanner is the only "survivor" of that game still active. Four members of the present Ram staff played in that game - Waterfield, Tom Fears, Don Paul and General Manager Elroy Hirsch. Packer Coach Norb Hecker was a sophomore end and defensive back with the Rams that year. The Packers built up a 24-3 lead on the Rams in the 1957 game in County Stadium and wound up losing 31-27. The Rams gained 521 yards that day and still punted four times...The Packers close out practice here today and leave for Milwaukee on the 10:30 North Western Saturday morning. They'll work in County Stadium in the afternoon. The team will return right after the game in two Greyhound buses...The Rams' two chief quarterbacks are dead even in yards gained. Bill Wade and Frank Ryan each have advanced the ball 666 yards by passes or rushes. Wade will start Sunday...Los Angeles has intercepted 20 passes already and rank second in the league in that department. The Rams stole only seven passes and returned them a total of three yards all last year. They returned the 20 this year for 342 yards and three touchdowns. Charley Britt, a rookie, and Eddie Meador, a sophomore, intercepted four each.

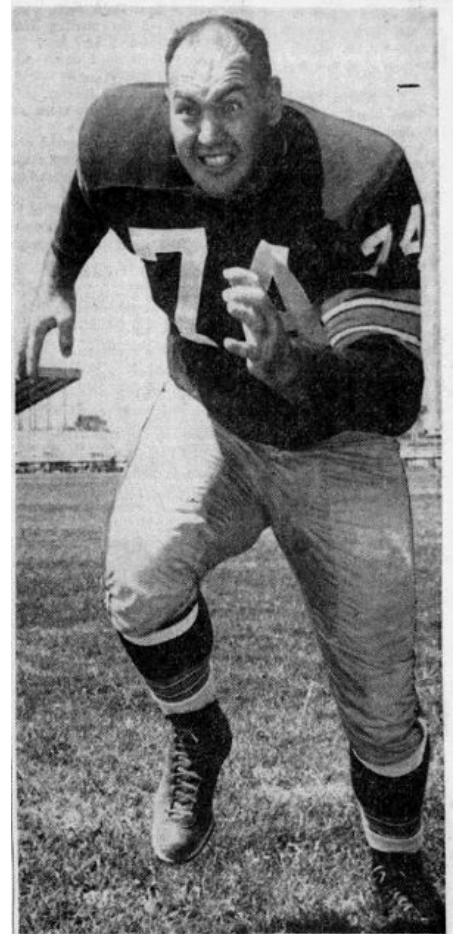

RAMS CAN CALL UPON 'EGGHEAD' AGAINST PACK

NOV 18 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Frank Ryan won't start at quarterback for the Rams against the Packers Sunday. That assignment has been handed to Bill Wade. But Ryan, who started the last five games, will be ready to "figure" things out just in case the Packers give Wade a hard time. Ryan is called a gridiron "egghead" because of classroom attainments in advanced mathematics. The records at UCLA show that Ryan ranked third in his class in a study known as combinational topology. The third year QB, who hurled six touchdown passes thus far, represents what the NFL calls a refreshing trend. Pro football insists the "dese, dem, dose" guys are fading away. Ph. D is no longer the symbol for "phenomenally dumb." Ryan was a brilliant physics student at Rice and graduated with honors. All the pro clubs knew he could throw a football. Ryan wasn't drafted until the fourth round because scouts thought he was too ambitious intellectually. The Rams made their pitch by clearing the way to graduate school at UCLA. Jack Teele, Ram publicity chief, says Ryan works math problems in the bus or hotel lobby "just like most fellows do crossword puzzles." It's not unusual for Ryan to be taking courses involving high mathematics well beyond the comprehension of the layman not it is unusual for Ryan to do well in highly technical courses, in or out of football season. Since joining the Rams, Frank never has been away from the classroom. Even during the Ram playing season, he has met classroom requirements at UCLA in the morning, attending Ram practice and skull sessions in the afternoon. And, even when on the road, Ryan has kept up with his UCLA classes...THIRD IN CLASS: The circumstances of the combinational topology course, however, were unusual, even for Ryan. The course actually was two consecutive semesters in length, with one single examination at the end of the full years. The grade on the examination constituted the entire grade for the entire course. Ryan entered the class at mid-year, following the 1959 football season. With the help of advisors, he managed to get caught up so well that on the final exam his grade was the third highest in the class. In pursuit of his masters in mathematics, Ryan, so far, is dead even with his projected timetable. He says, "This degree normally can be obtained in two years, by simply concentrating on it, full time. However, since the Rams have first call on my time for almost half of every calendar year, I've figured all along that it will take me three years. I should get the degree in the spring of 1961."

Ryan Math Whiz

Rams Can Call Upon 'Egghead' Against Pack

If the Packers' Henry Jordan is as mean Sunday as he appears to be in this picture, Los Angeles backs may be in for an unhappy afternoon. Jordan, a 250-pound defensive tackle, is playing his fourth season in the National Football League. The Packers and the Rams clash Sunday in Milwaukee County Stadium.

PACKERS FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE SHARE AGAINST RAMS

NOV 19 (Milwaukee-Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The Packers can draw even with the world champion Colts in County Stadium Sunday afternoon. Baltimore, leading the Western Division with a 6-2 record, has a bye tomorrow. Green Bay, a half-game behind with 5-2, could pull into first place by defeating the star-studded Los Angeles Rams. The Packers can actually take over undisputed possession of the lead in the next five days. After the Rams, the Packers play the Lions in Detroit Thanksgiving Day. A double win would give the Pack 7-2, a half-game lead on the Colts. This situation would force the Colts into a must-win situation against the 49ers in Baltimore a week from Sunday. "These two games are our season," Coach Vince Lombardi pointed out Friday, explaining, "It doesn't make much difference what we do against Detroit if we don't beat the Rams." The Packers are favored to beat the Rams by about 13 points, which is comforting if you have complete faith in the experts' opinion. The experts have been wrong. A crowd of about 35,000 is expected to give the Packers plenty of support. This will be the Pack's last scheduled home game. The Bays hope to make a clean sweep of the two west coast clubs in the two games here. They whipped the 49ers 41-14 in the league opener here. But the Rams can be troublesome here or anywhere. Green Bay hasn't beaten the Rams in County Stadium or Green Bay since 1956. The Packers face the possible loss of their offensive strong man, fullback Jim Taylor, who is still bothered with a pulled muscle. he did very little running this week and, barring a complete recovery today, he may be handicapped some Sunday. Taylor, the league's No. 2 ground gainer at the moment, would be relieved by Larry Hickman, a sophomore heavyweight. All of the Packers are bruised and aching with some sort of injury, although Taylor is the last of the serious cases. Jess Whittenton, held out last Sunday, is raring to go and he'll have a real problem on his hands - one Del Shofner, the Rams' great left end. Quarterback Bart Starr's attack will depend somewhat on what the Ram defense develops but there's a good chance he'll uncork an active aerial attack. The ends are all in good physical condition and the Ram secondary has two rookies and a sophomore - plus the veteran Will Sherman. Taylor will start in the regular backfield with Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler and Starr - plus

Get That Man—Walt Kowalczyk, the Cowboys' powerful fullback, is about to be smacked to the earth after gaining 18 yards on pass from Don Meredith in Packer-Cowboy game at City Stadium Sunday.

day. Grabbing him by hips is Ray Nitschke while John Symank (27) and Willie Wood (24) move in. Packers won 41-7. (Press-Gazette Photo)

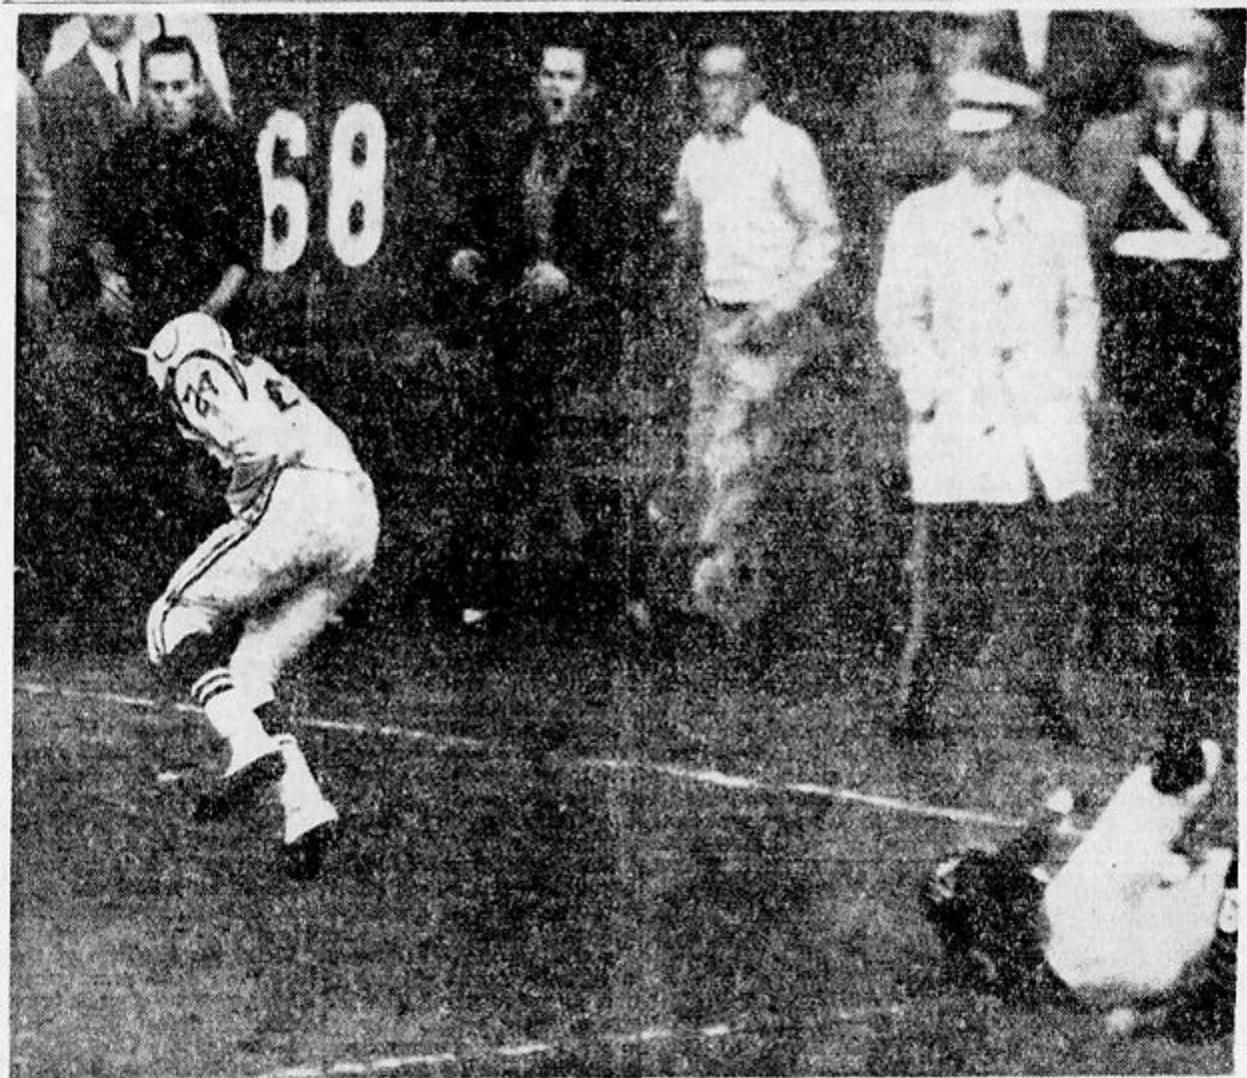

Good Start—Max McGee snares 28-yard pass from Bart Starr on Packers' first offensive play of day, a maneuver that carried Bays to Dallas 46. Dismayed defender is Cowboys' Don Bishop. McGee finished with 4 catches for 79 yards. (Press-Gazette Photo)

Max McGee and Gary Knafelc at ends, Bob Skoronski and Forrest Gregg at tackles, Jerry Kramer and Fred Thurston at guards and Jim Ringo at center. The Bays will have a new relief on defense - tackle-end John Miller, a 260-pounder who replaced injured Jim Temp on the injured list. He joins Ken Beck as replacements for defense linemen Bill Quinlan, Willie Davis, Dave Hanner and Hank Jordan. Quinlan is recovering from a shoulder injury and may need some help. The Packer defense will look at the slants of Bill Wade who is making his first start at quarterback in six games. He'll be in a backfield with Jon Arnett, Dick Bass and Joe Marconi in addition to ends Shofner and Jim Phillips. Los Angeles likely will do a lot of flying since the Bays have been consistently tough against rushing. Wade can be excited with a good rush and linebackers Tom Bettis, Bill Forester and Dan Currie will be anxious to test him. Whittenton, John Symank, Em Tunnell and Hank Gremminger make up the secondary. The Rams are expected to be quite "high" after a real tough 12-10 loss to the Lions. The Rams will be able to cut loose Sunday because they have a bye the following Sunday before they close at home with three games. Los Angeles' only hope of making a success of their 2-4-1 season is to knock off the leaders. Of the Rams' final four games, three are against the Packers and Colts. They host topsters Green Bay and Baltimore and toughie San Francisco after Sunday's game...BRIEFS: The Packers are staying at the Astor Hotel here. They'll return right after the game on two Greyhound buses, arriving at the North Western depot about 7:30 Sunday night.

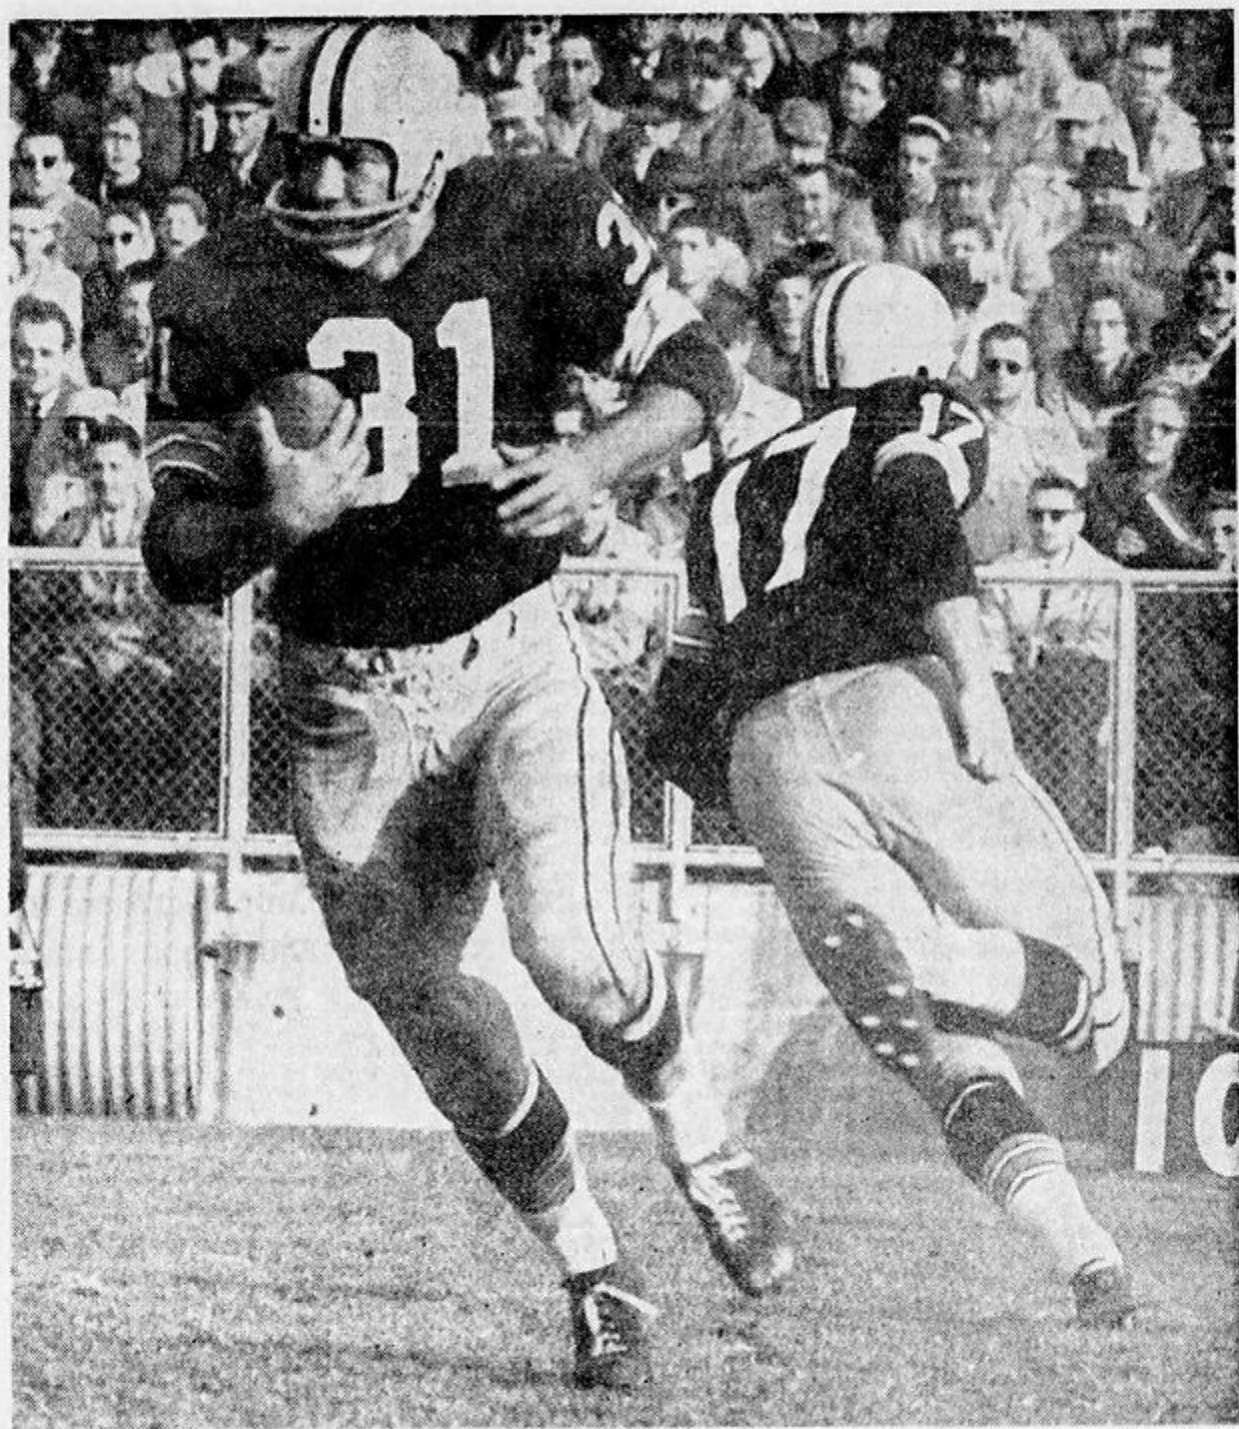

Packers Fight for First Place Share Against Rams

Costly for Pack—With 27 seconds to play, Lenny Moore (24) Baltimore Colts halfback, grabs pass thrown by Johnny Unitas (not shown) in the end zone to give the Colts a 24-20 victory over the Chicago Bears in Chicago's Wrigley Field Sunday.

Bear defensive halfback J. C. Caroline, right, fell to the ground in an attempt to break up the play. The Baltimore win kept the Packers out of first place in the Western Division of the NFL race.

(AP Photofax)

Parting of Ways—Packer fullback Jim Taylor (31) and quarterback Lamar McHan (17) head in opposite directions after completing transfer of ball in fourth quarter. Taylor continued for 19 yards to Packer 37 for first down, running his rushing total for day to 118 at that point. (Press-Gazette Photo)

Former Executives Honored — Dominic Olejniczak, left, presents a bronze plaque, a gift of the Packer Corp., to City Atty. Clarence Nier, chairman of the stadium commission, during halftime ceremonies. The tablet honors E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, founder of the Packers; and former corporation presidents A. B. Turnbull, Ray Evrard, Dr. W. Webber Kelly, L. H. Joannes, Emil R. Fischer, and Russell W. Bogda. All are now dead except Evrard and Joannes. The plaque will be fixed to the stadium ticket office wall.

(Press-Gazette Photo)

Where's the Handle?—Here's how the Lions produced a fumble in their narrow 12-10 victory over the Rams in Detroit Sunday. Ball squirts away as Bill Wade is hit from behind by Dick

Lane and in front by Dave Whitsell. The Packers will play these two teams in five days — Rams in Milwaukee Sunday and Lions in Detroit Thanksgiving Day. (AP Photofax)

Press-Gazette Color by Emery Kroening

Blocked?—Pictures can be confusing. This extra point kick (ball circled) in Packers' 41-7 victory over Dallas at City Stadium last Sunday seems headed for Tom Bettis' (65) back. Actually, it sailed over crossbar with plenty to spare for Paul Hornung's 100th point. Note Hornung and Ball Holder Bart Starr still have head down—like good golfers. Dallas players are Tom Franckhauser (32) and Bob Bereich (20). Packers play Los Angeles Rams in Milwaukee Sunday afternoon.

Fight Muscular Dystrophy— About 100 Preble High School students participated in the opening of the 1960 Muscular Dystrophy fund raising campaign Tuesday night. A rally was held at the high school with guests including, left to right, Tom Bettis of the Green Bay Packers; Jerry Campshure, this year's poster child for muscular dystrophy; Gail Kulk, a drive worker; Preble Fire Chief Richard Panure and Henry Jordan of the Packers.

(Press-Gazette Photo)

Sunday 1 p.m. on WJPG
Green Bay
PACKERS
Vs.
Los Angeles
RAMS
From
Milwaukee County Stadium
Packer Preview 12:45
BLAINE WALSH at the Mike
Your Hosts
● Humphrey Chevrolet
● The Milwaukee Co.
● Rahr's Beer

NFL Individual Stix

*LEADING PASSERS

	Stdg.	Att.	Comp.	Yds.	TD	Pct.	Ave.
				Gain.	P	Comp.	LP	Gain Pct.
Plum, Cleveland	1	114	79	1269	10	69.3	86	11.13 0.0
Unitas, Baltimore	2	234	123	2044	19	52.6	70	8.74 5.1
Van Brocklin, Philadelphia	3	175	98	1551	16	56.0	57	8.86 7.4
Layne, Pittsburgh	4	136	68	1226	11	50.0	70	9.01 7.4
Guglielmi, Washington	5	127	74	1009	5	58.3	50	7.94 7.1
Wade, Los Angeles	6	97	59	676	6	60.8	57	6.97 5.2
Tittle, San Francisco	7	115	64	659	4	55.7	45	5.73 1.7
Shaw, New York	8T	93	48	739	7	51.6	58	7.95 7.5
Ninowski, Detroit	8T	198	96	1173	1	43.5	55	5.92 6.1
Roach, St. Louis	10	116	53	908	10	45.7	57	7.83 10.3
LeBaron, Dallas	11	140	63	1064	7	45.0	75	7.60 13.6
Bratkowski, Chicago	12	112	59	770	4	52.7	39	6.88 8.9
Starr, Green Bay	13	88	51	626	0	58.0	31	7.11 6.8
Ryan, Los Angeles	14	107	49	656	7	45.8	61	6.13 5.6
Conerly, New York	15	94	44	620	4	46.8	44	6.60 4.3
Brodie, San Francisco	16	96	50	472	3	52.1	32	4.92 4.2
McHan, Green Bay	17	78	31	494	3	39.7	47	6.33 5.1
Brown, Chicago	18	72	28	591	4	38.9	91	8.21 11.1

LONGEST COMPLETION: 91 yards, Ed Brown, Chicago vs. San Francisco Oct. 16, 1960—TD.

BEST PERFORMANCE ONE GAME: John Unitas, Baltimore vs. Green Bay, Nov. 6, 1960. 29 Attempts, 20 Completions, 324 Yards, 4 TDs.

*Standings based on Completions, Yards Gained, Touchdown Passes, Per Cent Completions, Per Cent Interceptions, Average Gain Yards.

*Average of 10 attempts per game needed to qualify.

LEADING SCORERS

	TdR	TdP	TT	EXP	EXPM	FG	FGA	Pts.
Hornung, Green Bay	7	1	8	25	0	9	17	100
Walston, Philadelphia	0	4	4	23	1	9	14	74
Moore, Baltimore	4	6	10	0	0	0	0	60
Taylor, Green Bay	10	0	10	0	0	0	0	60
Berry, Baltimore	0	9	9	0	0	0	0	54
Mitchell, Cleveland	6	3	9	0	0	0	0	54
Myhra, Baltimore	0	0	0	31	0	7	15	52
Baker, Cleveland	0	0	0	26	2	8	11	50
Crow, St. Louis	5	3	8	0	0	0	0	48
Dial, Pittsburgh	0	8	8	0	0	0	0	48
McDonald, Philadelphia	0	8	8	0	0	0	0	48
Randle, St. Louis	0	8	8	0	0	0	0	48

BEST PERFORMANCE ONE GAME: 24 Points—Lenny Moore, Baltimore vs. Los Angeles, Oct. 16, 1960.

LEADING GROUND GAINERS

	Att.	YG	LG	Ave.
Brown, Cleveland	123	694	71	5.6
Taylor, Green Bay	143	661	32	4.6
Crow, St. Louis	114	551	50	4.8
Peaks, Philadelphia	86	465	49	5.4
Smith, San Francisco	100	457	23	4.6
Casares, Chicago	117	415	35	3.5
Mitchell, Cleveland	79	402	50	5.1
Tracy, Pittsburgh	117	402	27	3.4
Pietrosante, Detroit	72	399	57	5.5
Hornung, Green Bay	92	395	37	4.3

LONGEST RUN: 75 yards, Joe Marconi, Los Angeles vs. Dallas, Nov. 6, 1960—TD.

BEST PERFORMANCE ONE GAME: 173 yards, in 28 attempts, 2 TDs. Jim Brown, Cleveland vs. St. Louis, Nov. 13, 1960.

LEADING PASS RECEIVERS

	Recd.	YG	LG	TDs
Berry, Baltimore	52	966	70	9
Randle, St. Louis	38	539	57	8
Gibbons, Detroit	33	343	35	0
Phillips, Los Angeles	30	571	61	6
Dial, Pittsburgh	29	770	70	8
Dewveall, Chicago	29	529	91	2
Retzlaff, Philadelphia	29	518	36	3
Moore, Baltimore	27	527	66	6
Rofe, New York	27	401	32	5
Owens, San Francisco	27	336	42	3
Conner, San Francisco	27	271	21	1

LONGEST COMPLETION: 91 yards, Willard Dewveall, Chicago vs. San Francisco Oct. 16, 1960—TD.

BEST PERFORMANCE ONE GAME: 11 Received, 186 Yards, 1 TD. Ray Berry, Baltimore vs. Detroit Oct. 23, 1960.

*LEADING PUNTERS

	Stdg.	No.	AD	L
Van Brocklin, Philadelphia	1	27	44.8	60
Green, Pittsburgh	2	43	44.5	68
Baker, Cleveland	3	32	44.4	68
Norton, St. Louis	4	26	44.2	62
Brown, Chicago	5T	25	44.0	65
Lary, Detroit	5T	35	44.0	60
Sherer, Dallas	7	39	43.8	67
Davis, San Francisco	8	33	43.7	74
Shofner, Los Angeles	9	44	43.5	63
Day, Washington	10	32	39.9	50

LONGEST PUNT: 74 Yards, Tom Davis, San Francisco vs. Chicago, Oct. 30, 1960.

*Standings computed on average distance.

*PUNT RETURN LEADERS

	Stdg.	No.	YR	AD	L	TD
Woodson, S. Fran.	1	12	167	13.9	48	0
Butler, Dallas	2	10	120	12.0	46	0
Shofner, Cleveland	3	8	65	8.1	25	0
Barr, Detroit	4	8	56	7.0	13	0
Stacy, St. Louis	5	10	56	5.6	24	0

Dean, Philadelphia	6	11	50	4.5	15	0
Dove, S. Francisco	7	9	36	4.0	7	0
Johnston, Pitts.	8	9	36	4.0	14	0
Morris, Chicago	9	7	28	4.0	10	0

LONGEST RETURN: 48 yards, Abe Woodson, San Francisco vs. Detroit, Nov. 6, 1960.

*Standings computed on the basis of average return.

*KICKOFF RETURN LEADERS

	Stdg.	No.	YR	AD	L	TD
Sample, Baltimore	1	11	366	33.3	94	1
Conrad, St. Louis	2	8	252	31.5	65	0
West, St. Louis	3	13	370	28.5	87	0
Brown, Philadelphia	4	9	244	27.1	79	0
Carpenter, Pitts.	5	9	240	26.7	36	0
Bivens, Chicago	6	11	280	25.5	45	0
Arnett, L. Angeles	7	11	278	25.3	43	0
Woodson, San. F.	8	13	308	23.7	55	0
Stills, New York	9	10	234	23.4	39	0
Bass, Los Angeles	10	8	185	23.1	31	0

LONGEST RETURN: 94 yards, John Sample, Baltimore vs. Chicago, Oct. 2, 1960—TD.

*Standings computed on the basis of average return.

INTERCEPTION LEADERS

	No.	YR	TD	L
Burroughs, Philadelphia	5	63	0	25
Norton, St. Louis	5	63	0	26
Boyd, Baltimore	5	48	0	21
Nelson, Baltimore	5	43	0	22
Shinnick, Baltimore	5	40	0	11
Weber, Philadelphia	5	40	0	13
Parrish, Cleveland	4	123	0	54
Britt, Los Angeles	4	96	1	73
Lane, Detroit	4	96	1	80
Fleming, Cleveland	4	69	0	30
Meador, Los Angeles	4	48	1	26
Moegle, Pittsburgh	4	18	0	9
Davis, Baltimore	4	11	0	8

LONGEST RETURN: 80 yards, Richard Lane, Detroit vs. Baltimore, Oct. 23, 1960—TD.