PACKERS HUMBLE ST. LOUIS, 3-0 ON MUDDY FIELD

To Locals In Tight Game*

GAME RECAP (GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE)

(ST. LOUIS) - Cub Buck's field goal in the third quarter from the 28 yard line paved the way for the Green Bay Packers to defeat the St. Louis Browns here Sunday afternoon by a score of 3 to 0. The pigskin fracas was played on a sea of mud and, five minutes after the first whistle blew, it was hardly possible to tell one player from another. St. Louis never threatened. The Browns failed to get within the Packers' 30 yard line. In the last minute of play, the Green Bay team had the ball on St. Louis' three yard line, but time was up before the Badger champs could put it over for a touchdown. The Packers covered themselves with glory on their first visit to the Mound City. Ollie Kraehe's team was prepared for the game with the Bays but, aside from the two giant tackles, Travis and Weller, the St. Louisians were pretty well smeared up at all stages. Green Bay was not without friends in St. Louis. Zach Taylor, a former Green Bayesian, now managing editor of the St. Louis Star, headed the Green Bay rooters and after the game paid Captain Lambeau this complement: "I am prouder than ever of the Bay." Getting back to the game itself, it sure was a muddy party. The players mussed around just as much as in the Columbus game last year. It was impossible to gain any sort of a foothold and the pigskin chasers were begrimed with muck from head to foot. Despite the sloppy going the Packers played consistent football and they were on top of the oval every minute. The pigskin could be likened to a greased pole, but even at that the Badger state champs gave a good exhibition of forward passing. "Watch the pass" that was the St. Louis battle cry but they got mud in their eyes trying to do it. St. Louis completed about two passes while the Packers must have negotiated at least a dozen. Captain Lambeau's squad outsmarted their opponents all through the fracas, the Bay eleven cut loose with a brand of wide awake football which means trouble for Racine next Sunday. It looked for a time as if the game might go into the discard as Manager Kraehe of the St. Louis club wanted to call it off on account of weather conditions. However, the teams finally went at it but they were a good half hour behind schedule. Probably a thousand spectators witnessed the combat. Mills, Lambeau, Mathys, Gavin and Basing seemed to enjoy the mud and they were right at home in the sloppy going. Hayes, Wheeler, and Jabber Murray performed nicely at ends while Buck and Earps more than held their own with the giant pair of St. Louis tackles. The work of Green Bay's center trio, Lyle, Woodin and Niemann, was superb. Niemann passed the wet ball without an error while Buck placed his punts so nicely that he gained yardage on Casey, the classy St. Louis bootsmith. Travis, Weller and Casey were the outstanding stars for St. Louis with Dick King, the old Harvard fullback in the limelight occasionally.

GREEN BAY FANS RECEIVE RETURNS OVER TELEPHONE

NOV 5 (St. Louis Star and Times) - The Green Bay Packers, being a municipally-owned team, have a wonderful hometown following. In all their games away from home, the field is connected with a hall in the Wisconsin town by long distance telephone and the fans, at home, receive a play-by-play account of the struggle. Yesterday, the phone wire was extended along one sideline with a man who telephoned every move of the game against the Bulldogs. He stated that there were as many fans in the hall at Green Bay as there were in the Sportsman's Park enclosure.

OSHKOSH NORMAL RESENTS CHARGE OF LOADING TEAM

NOV 5 (Appleton Post-Crescent) - Oshkosh Normal officials are on the warpath. Certain excuses offered by colleges for defeats at the hands of state normals that the teachers payed little attention to eligibility rules and loaded their squad with outside players, which was given as the sole cause of their ability to beat the college elevens. Special reference was made to La Crosse Normal in connection with the its recent defeat of Lawrence college and also in connection with the beating which Oshkosh Normal gave Lawrence college two years ago. The article, which appeared last Sunday in the La Crosse Tribune, is quoted:...A BELOIT WAIL: "A sport writer on a Beloit newspaper went off half cocked and carelessly set forth before the clash between Beloit College and Lawrence that the local school would not accept Lawrence's defeat at the hands of La Crosse Normal as an outward sign of weakness on the part of the Blue and White

AMATEUR AND PROFESSIONAL

It always seems rather absurd when the high-salaried coach of a college football team denounces professional football, which appears to be gaining in popularity. He makes a fine living out of the game himself but feels that young men competent to play it ought to be denied the privilege of turning their ability to financial account. His general argument is that football ought to be kept strictly amateur, but he is a professional football man himself.

The paid college coach may be consciously sincere in what he says but his subconscious attitude perhaps is that professional football may undermine amateur football in its appeal to the public and reduce the demand for skilled college coaches, or at least reduce their salaries. The popularity of college football does not seem to be endangered by professional football (there appears to be a lively demand for both), but there are some signs that in time a preponderant sentiment may develop in the colleges for a game which is strictly amateur as to both players and coaches. However this may be, the contention that honest professional football is an unmitigated evil, on the theory that the amateur game in charge of professional coaches has a sort of divine right to a monopoly of the public interest in this sport, has not a leg to stand on or punt with.—Ohio State Journal.

in view of the fact the "northern Normals" take great delight in defeating the big Lawrence eleven and every year load up with players, paying little attention to eligibility rules." He accused Oshkosh Normal of using players from the Green Bay Packers in defeating Lawrence, 3 to 0, a year ago. "I am informed that steps have been taken to have this bit of carelessness corrected for the benefit of readers of the Beloit paper. Inspection of credits and the eligibility of each La Crosse Normal player is open to those who believe with the Beloit sports writer that Coach Keeler used others besides eligible men."...UNFOUNDED STATEMENTS: "The Normal schools of the state, particularly Oshkosh and La Crosse, whose football elevens are yearly a constant threat to the so-called collegiate teams, have no grievance with the colleges in Wisconsin. Neither do we believe the colleges themselves have any grievance with the state Normals. But it is unfounded statements such as that which appeared in the Beloit press which is stoutly resented by reason of utter misrepresentation of facts. The colleges of the state, we believe, are realizing more clearly with each new year that some few state Normals are playing football of a caliber that conservatively approaches a par with college football. Oshkosh and La Crosse have invariably been the standard bearers of the Normal conference. They cannot afford to be admired in unfounded statements regarding ineligibility of players."

PACKER SQUAD CAME OUT OF ST. LOUIS BATTLE IN GOOD SHAPE; DRILL FOR RACINE

NOV 5 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Now for Racine. The Packer footballers resumed work this morning for the game with Racine which will be played Sunday in the Legion's own backyard. Two weeks ago, the Horlickmen handed the Bays quite a walloping but this time out it is going to be a different story. And every one of Captain Lambeau's players is determined to come home with a victory. The Bay eleven came out of the mud battle at St. Louis in good physical condition. Mills injured his ankle slightly but it was not bad enough of a twist to put him on the hospital list...HARD WEEK OF PRACTICE: An intensive week of drill is ahead of the Packers. As usual, morning workout will be the rule. The new defense against forward passes worked superbly in the St. Louis game. It is safe to say that when the whistle blows on Sunday, the Legion eleven won't be staging any picnic via the aerial attack. The Packers will be in there fighting harder on Sunday than ever before. They will be battling with their backs up against the wall to defense the state championship, which has been held by Green Bay since 1917 and it will be "rarin' to go" Green Bay eleven that takes the field...PRAISE FOR GREEN BAY: The St. Louis Star, one of the leading St. Louis papers, paid the Packers this compliment in its story of last Sunday's game: "The Packers lived up to advance notices. The Green Bay team was billed as "The Pro Team with the College Spirit" and they surely were. The Badger champions are a credit to pro football. Green Bay worked like a machine. The team showed the results of long practice hours. Considering the condition of the field, their forward passing was remarkable. The Badgers must be a slick working combination on a dry gridiron. Green Bay is a city of some 35,000, but, so far as football goes, its team can hold its own with the greatest pro elevens in the country. The Packers will be welcome back here next year."

PLAY BY PLAY TO GIVE FANS STORY OF RACINE CLASH

NOV 5 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Play by play football fans will have their inning again Sunday afternoon at Turner hall as arrangements have been completed for a special wire between Racine and Green Bay to cover completely the Packer-Racine Legion conflict on which the state championship hangs. There was a fair sized turnout at Turner hall last Sunday and the Packer-St. Louis game was thoroughly enjoyed. Enthusiasm ran high and, when Cub Buck kicked the field goal, the din nearly raised the roof. Every play of the game, along with all the sidelights, are carried on the play by play wire. Sunday's game at Racine will start at 2:30 o'clock and half an hour before, the wire will start talking with all of the preliminary details.

CAL'S COMMENTS

NOV 5 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Revenge is sweet and the Packers hope to get even up on Racine this Sunday in the pro league game which will be staged at Horlickville. In order to hold on to the state championship, Captain Lambeau's squad must knock off Hank Gillo and Co. this weekend and that is just what Green Bay intends to do...Sunday's game at St. Louis set a record in one respect anyway. There wasn't a single penalty called on either side. The referee and headlinesman were both St. Louis men and they overlooked several violations of the rules which would have given the Packers considerable yardage. However, it is all over but the shouting and the Packers won, so what's the difference...There were a number of surprises in the pro league games on Sunday. The Canton Bulldogs sure did take the wind out of the Chicago Cardinal sails and Milwaukee did a pretty job by taking Rock Island into camp. This was the big upset of the weekend as it was figured that Conzelman's club was in for a nice trimming. And the Marines won out over Racine. Lest we forget, the Packers beat Minneapolis earlier in the season.

Legion Eleven Has Hopes of State Pro Title; Big Crowd Will Attend Clash

RACINE LOOKING FORWARD TO PACKERS GAME SUNDAY

NOV 6 (Racine) - The biggest game of the football season will be played here Sunday at Horlick park when Babe Ruetz's Racine Legion eleven clashes with the Green Bay Packers in a game which will decide the Badger State professional football championship. Two weeks ago, Racine handled the Packers the worst licking the Green Bay team ever experienced. However, the Legion isn't looking for another way. The Racine players realized that the title holders were way off in the game and that when the game gets underway on Sunday, it will be a scrappy Green Bay aggregation on the field seeking revenge for the reversal of two weeks ago...BEATEN BY MARINES: Racine didn't go so well against the Marines and the squad returned here on the short end of a 13 to 6 score. Hank Gillo's educated toe being responsible for the Racine scores. Several of the players were banged up but Manager Reutz hopes to have all his regulars in shape to rout the Bay invasion. It is thought that Sunday's game will draw a record breaking crowd. The advance sale of seats has been unusually heavy and football fans from all over Wisconsin are coming here for the game. A special section of 200 seats has been reserved for the Green Bay rooters...O.K. SPECIAL WIRE: The football fans at Green Bay, who don't come here, are going to get the story of the game hot off the wire as permission has been secured by Green Bay from the Racine Legion to set up a play by play wire at the field and the Green Bayians at home will get a detailed report of the game hot off the gridiron. The game here Sunday will start at 2:30 o'clock. Whyte, of Milwaukee, will umpire while Coffeen, of Beloit, will be the headlinesman. The referee is to be named by President Joe Carr of the NFL.

WANT CARS TO TAKE PACKERS TO RACINE FOR SUNDAY'S GAME

The Green Bay Football Corporation needs a dozen inclosed cars to take the Packers to Racine for Sunday's game. It is planned to leave here about noon Saturday and arrive in Horlickville in time for supper.

The management feels confident that there will be many volunteers to this call.

Those willing to donate their cars are asked to get in immediate touch with The Press-Gazette.

MILWAUKEE HEARS THAT GRANGE DID PLAY WITH PROS

NOV 7 (Milwaukee) - Red Grange, left halfback on the University of Illinois football team and the center of a sweeping offensive developed by Coach Bob Zuppke, is reported to have played with the Rock Island and Green Bay professional teams, according to rumors. According to the stories, Grange played at Rock Island under the name of Smith. Piqued and angered by the charges of professionalism from an unknown source against Erwin Gerber, tackle on the University of Wisconsin team, Badger followers here lent an anxious ear to the wild tales about Grange. Managers of both the Rock Island and Green Bay teams Tuesday night denied that Grange ever played with them. Grange, though only a sophomore, is easily the star of the Illinois team this season. His sensational open field running was the feature of every game that Illinois played this season.

CAL'S COMMENTS

NOV 7 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - The biggest crowd that ever attended a football game in Racine is expected to witness the Packers-Legion game in Horlickville next Sunday. Down in the southern part of the state, the pigskin followers are much excited over the game as the Badger state pro title hangs fire. The Chicago Bears drew 3,600 in Racine but it seems certain that the Bay eleven will outdraw this famous Chicago aggregation.

Gerber, Wisconsin Tackle, Ruled Ineligible; Rumors About Grange Still Ripe

NOV 8 (Madison) - Wisconsin football hopes suffered a severe setback when the university athletic council late on Wednesday declared E.C. Gerber, star tackle, ineligible. The council sustained a complaint filed with Conference Commissioner Griffith that Gerber was employed in coaching work with the La Crosse Y.M.C.A. shortly after he returned from the Army. The council's action is the final and Wisconsin will meet Illinois on Saturday at Urbana without Gerber. Student feeling at the university is strong as a result of Gerber's ineligibility since it is generally believed that his loss is one of the greatest blows that the team could have received. The burly tackle is declared by followers of the Wisconsin team to be an equal to Captain Marty Below, and one of the hardest fighting tackles in the conference...ALL STATE SELECTION: Before entering the Badger ranks, he played with the La Crosse Normal school team and was selected an all-state tackle. He was ruled out on a technical violation of Rule 5, conference regulations. Miller, who had been on the sidelines most of the season, probably will take Gerber's place at the tackle position. He has been playing at guard. Gerber's case recalled vividly to football followers here the complaint of professionalism last year against Murray, also a star Badger tackle, who was ruled ineligible just before the Illinois-Wisconsin game. Several members of other conference teams were ruled out in the same case. Feeling among Badger followers is believed by officials to have resulted in rumor that a protest will be filed from the Badger camp against an Illinois player...RUMORS ABOUT GRANGE: Reports and wild rumors that Red Grange, the Illinois star, would be protested by Wisconsin were denied by Cardinal athletic authorities. "We do not believe in that sort of thing," said Athletic Director Jones. He admitted that he had heard the rumors but says it is up to the University of Illinois authorities to ascertain whether the rumors are anything but idle gossip. According to the report here, Grange is said to have played with the Rock Island, Ill., pro team two years ago under the name of Smith. It is rumored that he played at Green Bay, but this is denied by the management of the Packer eleven. The story about Grange created great excitement in the student quarter where feeling against Illinois is bitter as a result of the protest of Gerber. Illinois athletic heads claim that they did not file the charges against Gerber, but nevertheless the undergrads feel that the Champaign authorities are behind the protest even if they did not actually make it.

MANY GREEN BAY ROOTERS GOING TO RACINE SUNDAY

NOV 8 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - A big delegation of Green Bay rooters are going to Racine on Sunday to witness the crucial game in the Badger state pro championship football race between the Packers and Manager Ruetz's Legion. A special section of 200 seats, located near the Green Bay bench, has been set aside for the Packer followers. During the stay in Racine, the Green Bay headquarters will be at the St. George hotel...COVER HANK GILLO: The Racine game is being talked up a lot in football circles and the impression prevails here that the Packers are coming through with bells on. True enough, Hank Gillo is a dangerous threat but the Bay squad is confident that they can keep the mighty bootsmith pretty well covered. The Packers are putting in their hardest week of practice. Every man on the team is determined to wipe out the lacing of several weeks ago. The squad staged a dummy scrimmage this afternoon against one of the high school squads and tonight there will be a blackboard talk in the assembly room of the courthouse...HOPES TO GET BAND: George De Lair has been appointed master of ceremonies for the doing at Racine, and he is anxious to get in touch immediately with all of the musicians who are planning to make the trip. George wants to get together a jazz band that will open the eyes of Horlickville. De Lair is also hot on the trail of a cheerleader. He wants somebody to lead the Green Bay rooters at Racine. Anybody qualified for the task is urged to phone 120 immediately. The football management still needs about a half dozen enclosed cars for the invasion of Racine. It is planned to take the players to Horlickville via auto. Any car owners who will donate the use of their machines are asked to call the Press-Gazette, phone 4400, not later than Friday noon.

CAL'S COMMENTS

NOV 8 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Sometimes the mud thrower gets bit dirty himself. Gerber, the big Wisconsin tackle, got under fire and of course everybody thought it was Illinois that started something. And now Dame Rumor has engulfed Red Grange, the Sucker marvel...The mud throwers claim that Grange say service with Rock Island and Green Bay. We know this not to be a fact. Teams in the pro league are not tinkering with college players these days. Each organization in the football loop has $1,000 on deposit against just this sort of thing and in these days a thousand dollars is a whole lot of money...Those who like to kick up a disturbance in the college uses pro football as their weapon. The Grange incident coming right on top of the Stagg outburst may cause some anti-feeling towards pro football but it is our hunch that the smoke will blow over without much fire.

RACINE DEVELOPS NEW AERIAL ATTACK FOR PACKERS

NOV 9 (Racine) - Horlick-Racine Legion football players have recovered from the bruises and bumps they received at Minneapolis last Sunday and are working at top speed this week for their battle with the Green Bay Packers next Sunday at Horlick field. The men went through a long practice session last night at Lakeview and will work again today and tomorrow. The Legion has developed a fast and bewildering attack to hurl against the Packers. They have new forward passing plays and a number of new formations for end runs and off tackle smashes which they believe will give them another victory over Green Bay. If the Legion men win Sunday's battle they will have the state football championship practically cinched and they are working hard to bring the title to Racine. A special section of 200 seats, located near the Packer bench, has been reserved for the Green Bay rooters. Tickets for this section will be on sale at Smaders' Cigar store until 1 o'clock and then the ducats can be secured at the park. The game will start promptly at 2:30. The Legion drum corps will parade the streets of Racine early Sunday and march to Horlick field where they will go through the formations that gave them first prize at the American Legion convention at San Francisco last month. The "Legion Misfits" will put on a burlesque football game between the halves. Indications are that the largest crowd that ever saw a football game in Racine will be out for Sunday's battle. Tickets are selling fast and it is believe that every seat at the park will be sold for the game.

MANY VOLUNTEER

NOV 9 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - George De Lair, who will be master of ceremonies at Racine, reports that he has a pair of cheerleaders lined up and he hopes that enough musicians will be on the job to draft a good jazz band for the occasion. Band members who are planning to make the Racine trip are asked to get in touch with Mr. De Lair, phone 120, immediately.

CAL'S COMMENTS

NOV 9 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Officials of the Packer football team have answered at least a dozen press inquiries, reading something like this: "Did Grange ever play with Green Bay's professional team?" We don't know why or how Grange has been linked with the Packers but we do know that the Illinois star never donned the gridiron togs for performances with a Green Bay eleven.

DULUTH GRIDDERS PLAY MILWAUKEE; AKRON VS. BEARS

NOV 9 (Green Bay Press-Gazette) - Guy is playing a bang up game for Cleveland. The former W. and J. star is enjoying one of his best years on the gridiron. Guy is one of the lightest players holding down the center berth but he makes his 160 pounds count...Frank McNeil, the Buffalo manager, has been having his share of grief trying to get his backfield sitting pretty. Several of his aces have been injured while other stars he counted on failed to materialize...Glaver, one of the best backs behind the line for Rock Island, is suffering from torn ligaments but this injury didn't keep him out of last week's fracas with Milwaukee. Glaver is a fighter from first to last whistle...Hudson, a colored footballer, made his initial appearance in the Minneapolis battle front last Sunday against Racine. Dunn, the Marines' manager, is making use of a lot of new faces on the gridiron this season.

Stage All Set For State Title Game; Both Elevens Reported Fit For Battle

GREEN BAY PACKERS PLAY LEGION IN RACINE SUNDAY

NOV 10 (Racine) - With fair weather predicted, Manager Babe Ruetz of the Racine Legion football team is making preparations to handle the biggest crowd that ever attended a pigskin encounter here on Sunday when Racine and the Green Bay Packers lock horns in a game on which hangs the pro championship of the Badger state. The football colony in Racine in Southern Wisconsin is anxiously waiting the whistle, which will bring together two of the best teams in the country. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and the doors to the park will be open at 1:15...GREEN BAY SECTION: A section of 200 seats has been set aside for the Green Bay rooters. These reservations are in close vicinity of the Packer bench. Tickets for this section can be secured at Smaders' up until 1 o'clock. The Green Bay headquarters will be at the St. George hotel. The football experts here are looking for a bitterly contested game. Racine whipped the Bay eleven quite badly two weeks ago, but the Packers are seeking revenge this time out and it is figured that Hank Gillo and his cohorts are going to have a tough battle trying to put over another victory...BOTH TEAMS FIT: Both teams are reported in the pink of condition. The Packers came out of the St. Louis game without a scratch while the Legion eleven is fit again after the bumping they received last Sunday in Minneapolis at the hands of the Marines. In view of the importance of the game, President Joe Carr of the NFL has assigned Bobby Cahn of Chicago to officiate. Cahn is rated the ace of referees in the western district. Whyte of Milwaukee is to umpire while Coffeen of Beloit will be the headlinesman.

CARR TO WITNESS CANTON BULLDOGS GAME AT BUFFALO

NOV 10 (Columbus) - President Joe Carr of the NFL will attend the Canton Bulldog-Buffalo All American clash at Buffalo on Sunday. The pro league chief is visiting a different town in the circuit each Sunday. Mr. Carr is entirely satisfied with the league situation. During the past ten days, there have been several clouds on the horizon, but they have blown over nicely, according to the league head. "Alonzo Stagg's outburst did us no harm," said Mr. Carr. "The unfairness of his charges were plainly seen and I think we gained friends by his attack. Charges against Grange, the Illinois star, playing with Rock Island and the Green Bay Packers fell flat. Executives of these two pro league clubs lost little time in denying the report. Teams in my league are not tinkering with college players and it won't be long before the sporting public fully realizes that our organization is an important factor in increasing the popularity of football...LEAGUE GOSSIP:

Referee, Bobby Cahn, Chicago; Umpire, Whyte, Milwaukee; Head linesman, Coffeen, Beloit; Time of periods 15 minutes.

Gillies continues to do all that is asked of him at tackle for the Chicago Cardinals. The big lineman smacks 'em hard and generally he is down the field under the punts just as fast as the ends...Conover is proving a tower of strength at the snapper-back's job for the Canton Bulldogs. The big center can be likened to a brick wall on the defense and he gets the ball to his backs at bullet-like speed...Ollie Kraehe is right at home as a professional pigskin chaser. Despite his worries as manager, Kraehe rakes part in every game, filling in at center, guard or end with better than average ability...Jabber Murray, a former Marquette star, is proving a handy man to have around in the Green Bay Packer squad. Murray is budding out as an end and getting away with the task nicely for a two hundred pounder...Long Time Sleep lived up to his name in the Indian-Bear game. The Braves' center dreamed over the signals and then made a bum pass to Jim Thorpe which cost the Redskins a good chance to score on the Chicagoans...Bryan, who is playing quarter for the Bears, is getting more than his share of publicity these days. Nearly all the papers in the country played up his reply to Coach Stagg in the pro football controversy...Winkleman, substituting for Dinger Doane at fullback in the Milwaukee Badgers' lineup, starred brilliantly for Conzelman's aggregation when they kicked over the dope bucket by defeating the Rock Island Independents...Bud Gorman, who was Tommy Gibbons' training partner for the Dempsey fight at Shelby, is wearing the moleskins for Racine. Gorman is a steady performer and opens holes nicely. He is fast on his feet for a big fellow...Kiley, the Duluth tackle, pulled one for the book in the non-league game against Ironwood. He threw his headguard at an attempt for goal after touchdown and the referee very promptly gave Ironwood the extra point...Eddie Novak will have to delay his return to league football until next season. Novak was to have joined Green Bay but dislocated his shoulder in his final game with the Ironwood Legion eleven...Weather conditions put two games in the discard last week. The Hammond-Toledo encounter and the Akron-Columbus clash were postponed. If possible, the skirmishes will be played off before the season ends...If it came to a popularity contest, Coach Alonzo Stagg wouldn't win a place if the pro footballers had anything to say about it. Stagg got busy with his hammer in a very unjustifiable attack on the professional game...The Canton Bulldogs are headed for another national championship. Chamberlain and his hirelings smeared up the Cards' eleven record, 7 to 3, and it looks now as if they have pretty clear sailing ahead...Two other teams in the league haven't tasted defeat. Duluth has four victories to its credit while Cleveland has a pair of wins and two ties contests. Rock Island and the Cards fell by the wayside last Sunday...Two of the oldtimers staged the thrill in the Bear-Indians game. Halas scooped a fumble on his own 3-yard line and dashed down the field for a score. Thorpe was at his heels but couldn't quite catch him...Doc Young will make his annual invasion of Chicago on Sunday when he takes his Hammond team into the Windy City for a game with the Cards. Young has bolstered his lineup in hopes of trimming O'Brien's squad.
